USC: AMERICA'S NO. 1 BOWL TEAM

USC — currently on a five-year bowl winning streak — is the No. 1 bowl team in the country.

The Trojans have both the most wins (18) and highest winning percentage (.750) of any team in history. (To qualify for ranking in percentage, a team must have played in 10 bowls.)

USC's won-loss record is 16-6 in the Rose Bowl and 2-0 in other games with wins in the 1975 and 1977 Liberty and Bluebonnet Bowls.

Current coach John Robinson stands 3-0, having defeated Michigan 14-6 and 17-10 in the 1977 and 1979 Rose Bowls, and Texas A&M 47-28 in the 1977 Bluebonnet Bowl.

USC

JOHN ROBINSON
Head Football Coach

John Robinson followed a legend at USC — but he's fast becoming one in his own right.

He was only 40 years old when he succeeded John McKay three years ago, but now at 43, Robinson is already three-for-three. In three years he's taken the Trojans to three bowl games and won them all . . . and also finished first, second and 12th in the final polls.

Last season was the high point of Robinson's career when he guided his young Trojans to a 12-1 record and USC's eighth national championship. After beating Michigan 17-10 in the Rose Bowl, USC was voted that No. 1 honor by UPI's board of coaches.

The enthusiastic Robinson also guided USC to a 14-6 victory over Michigan in the 1977 Rose Bowl and followed up the next season with a 47-28 rout of Texas A&M in the Bluebonnet Bowl.

And for his success he was voted Pac-10 and District IX (West Coast) Coach of the Year in both 1976 and 1978.

The 16th head coach in USC history, Robinson now has a 31-6 record. His winning percentage of .838 is second only to Elmer C. (Gloomy Gus) Henderson, who coached the Trojans 55 years ago.

In 1976, his first year, John not only guided USC to 11 straight wins (11-1 overall) and a No. 2 ranking, but was the first rookie head coach from the conference to take a team to the Rose Bowl in 25 years — and the first to win it in 61.

In 1977 the Trojans ran their winning streak to 15 straight — longest in the country — before finishing 8-4.

And in capturing the national title in 1978, USC did it by beating the Sugar Bowl champion (Alabama), Cotton Bowl champion (Notre Dame), co-champions of the Big Ten (Michigan and Michigan State), Bluebonnet Bowl champion (Stanford) and UCLA, which tied Arkansas in the Fiesta Bowl.

Innovative and imaginative, Robinson has put together three straight potent offensive teams and maintained USC's great heritage of defensive excellence.

The 1976 Trojans finished third in the country in total offense with 433 yards a game, and third in scoring with 34 points a game.

The 1977 Trojans wound up fourth in the nation in total offense with 451 yards a game, and, adding Bluebonnet Bowl totals, gained more yards than any Trojan team in history.

And once again in 1978 USC was explosive, averaging 402 yards a game during the regular season.

Defensively, the Trojans have finished first in the Pac-10 twice and second once in team defense under Robinson and boasted two of the greatest defensive units in the school's history in 1976 and 1978.

The 1978 team was second in the country in defense against rushing, yielding only 91 yards a game. And the 1976 team kept five teams from scoring a touchdown. The last 11 opponents of a tough schedule scored only 93 points.

In an era when coaches are changing jobs at a rapid pace, Robinson emphasizes his commitment to USC and college football.

"USC is a special place for both players and coaches," he says. "I know I still have the same sense of excitement I did three years ago. And I firmly believe that playing for this school is a unique experience.

"But I also believe that we college coaches must do the best possible job of making sure our players get a wide campus experience. I want our players as ambitious about school as they are about football."

Working toward that end, John has established a successful tutorial and counseling program for USC's players. Six of last fall's starters, for example, had grade point averages over 3.00.

Robinson grew up with another successful coach, the recently retired John Madden of the Oakland Raiders. Born in Chicago July 25, 1935 and raised in San Mateo, Calif., Robinson went to grammar school with Madden and later served as the best man in his wedding.

At San Mateo's Serra High, John played football and baseball, winning Catholic All-American and All-Northern California honors at end for the football team.

At Oregon, where he received a 1958 bachelor's degree in education, Robinson was a letterman end when the Ducks won the Pacific Coast Conference title in 1957. He played briefly in Oregon's 10-7 loss to Ohio State in the Rose Bowl.

When he took the job at USC, John was well prepared. He brought with him 16 years of full-time coaching experience — 12 as an assistant at Oregon (1960-71), 3 as McKay's offensive coordinator at USC (1972-74) and 1 as backfield coach of the Oakland Raiders (1975).

The Trojan coach and his wife, Barbara, now live in La Habra, a Los Angeles suburb, with their two daughters, Teresa, 19, and Lynn, 18, and two sons, David, 16, and Christopher, 12.

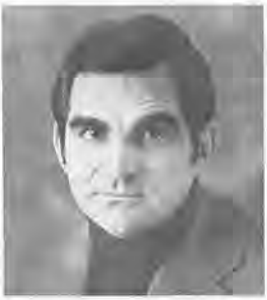
ROBINSON AND MICHIGAN'S BO SCHEMBECHLER

ASSISTANT COACHES

MARV GOUX

Assistant Head Coach
Defensive Line



Sometimes you get the feeling there can't be a Trojan fan anywhere who hasn't heard of Marv Goux.

Named assistant head coach in 1977 by John Robinson, the inspirational Goux is in his 23rd season on the USC staff. He was one of only two assistants to coach during the entire John McKay era, when the Trojans wons four national titles and went to eight Rose Bowls.

The 47-year-old Goux has coached 11 first team All-Americans, including Gary Jeter, John Grant, Charles Weaver, Al Cowlings, Jimmy Gunn, Tim Rossovich, Damon Bame, Dan Ficca, Ron Mix, and Marlin and the late Mike McKeever.

Marv first became a USC assistant back in 1957 under Don Clark. For three years he was both head freshman coach and varsity assistant, before moving up to the varsity full-time when McKay took over in 1960.

Except for a season as a high school coach, Marv has been a Trojan since 1952, when he started at linebacker for the USC Rose Bowl team that blanked Wisconsin, 7 to 0. Before he was through as a player, Goux had started three years, including 1954 and 1955, when he went both ways, performing at both linebacker and center.

Small at 5-10 and 185 pounds, Goux made up for his lack of size with quickness and great desire. He is one of just two Trojans to twice win the Davis-Teschke Award, given annually to USC's most inspirational player. Marv won that honor in 1954 and 1955, after coming back from a back injury that sidelined him for all of 1953. He was also elected co-captain in 1955.

DON LINDSEY

Defensive Coordinator
Secondary

At 36, Don Lindsey is considered one of the most innovative young coaches in the country with a solid background in both offense and defense.

As USC's defensive coordinator under John Robinson, he deserves a great deal of the credit for Trojan defenses that have led the Pac-10 in team defense twice and finished second once in the last three years. In fact, the 1978 Trojans were second in the country in defense against rushing, yielding just 91 yards a game.

The 1976 team allowed just 93 points in winning its last 11 games, and overall in Lindsey's three years as defensive coordinator, USC has intercepted the remarkable total of 71 passes.

There are nine former USC linebackers — who were coached by Lindsey — currently playing pro football.

Now in his ninth year on the USC staff, Lindsey has already coached under Bear Bryant at Alabama, Frank Broyles at Arkansas, and, of course, five years under John McKay at USC.

Lindsey began his coaching career at Alabama under Bryant in 1965, spending two seasons as offensive and defensive backfield coach, respectively, while also earning his master's degree in education.

While Lindsey was at Alabama, the Crimson Tide won the national championship in 1965 and wound up ranked third in 1966 while compiling an 11-0 record. Don coached quarterback Scott Hunter, who broke several of Joe Namath's passing records.

From Alabama Lindsey went to Montana State where he served as defensive coordinator under Jim Sweeney in 1967. He then moved to Washington State with Sweeney for the 1968 and 1969 seasons, serving as offensive coordinator.

Before coming to USC in 1971, Don spent one year at Arkansas under Broyles, where he coached the defensive backs. He was born September 17, 1943 in Camden, Arkansas.

PAUL HACKETT

Quarterbacks, Passing Game

In only six years as a full-time assistant coach — three at California and three at USC — Paul Hackett has built a national reputation as an outstanding teacher of the passing game.

All of Paul's work at USC culminated in the 1978 season when junior Paul McDonald became his third quarterback in six years to lead the conference in passing, completing 57% of his throws for a school-record-equaling 19 touchdowns with only 7 interceptions in 203 attempts.

Working in John Robinson's new look passing attack in 1976, Hackett coached Vince Evans and Rob Hertel and increased their total pass completions from 49 to 125, their yardage from 910 to 1,892 and their TD passes from 4 to 18. Evans improved his completion percentage from 31% to 54%.

In 1977 Hertel set new USC records for touchdown passes (19) and passing yardage (2,145), while split end Randy Simmrin, also coached by Hackett, set Trojan career marks for catches (100) and receiving yardage (2,015). Simmrin also set a new single season mark for receiving yardage (840).

The 32-year-old Hackett was one of four new Trojan coaches hired by Robinson shortly after he took over. At California, he had coached All-American quarterback Steve Bartkowski, the nation's leading passer in 1974, and NFL's first draft pick in 1975; and the late Joe Roth, the Pac-8's total offense and passing leader in 1975.

Paul was a quarterback himself at the University of California at Davis, where he was a three-year starter and led the Far Western Conference in passing as a senior. He was first team all-conference his last season.

Born July 5, 1947, Hackett earned a bachelor's degree in history at U.C. Davis and a master's in physical education at Sacramento State.

JOHN JACKSON

Offensive Backs, Running Game

John Jackson's running backs — in his three seasons as USC backfield coach — have gained over five miles of yardage.

Now 43, the personable Jackson has coached two unanimous All-American tailbacks, Charles White and Ricky Bell, and the leading rusher from fullback in USC history, Lynn Cain. USC's running attacks have surpassed 3,000 yards each of the last three seasons.

One of four coaches hired by John Robinson shortly after he became head coach, Jackson came to USC from Illinois, where he was assisting one of the country's winningest coaches, Bob Blackman.

Jackson first joined Blackman at Dartmouth in 1970, coaching the backs and receivers for a team that went 9-0-0. When Blackman moved to Illinois in 1971, he took Jackson with him, and for five seasons, John coached the backfield for the Illini.

Previously, in 1968 and 1969, Jackson was offensive coordinator for the football team and head coach of the track team at Hofstra.

He had a successful high school career, coaching Boys High School in Brooklyn from 1965 to 1967, where he was twice named New York metropolitan Coach of the Year. While coaching at Boys High, he was also Dean of Students at his old school, Brooklyn Tech.

A 1956 graduate of NYU, Jackson earned bachelor's and master's degrees there in physical education.

He was a five-year teacher and assistant football coach at Brooklyn Tech, served in the Marines three years (attaining the rank of captain) and then moved on to Boys High. A Brooklyn native, John was born February 4, 1936.

ARTIE GIGANTINO

Outside Linebackers

USC has had a long tradition of defensive excellence, and John Robinson moved to continue that tradition when he hired 28-year-old Artie Gigantino last December as his newest assistant coach.

Gigantino came to USC from California, where he had coached for six years, the last four as a full-time assistant in change of the defensive line. The Golden Bears were 27-16-1 over those four years and known for their aggressive line play on defense.

Gigantino, who coaches the outside linebackers at USC, spent his first two years in Berkeley working with the outside linebackers as a part-time coach and graduate assistant. He served on the same staff in 1973, '74 and '75 as Trojan passing coach Paul Hackett, who preceded him to USC.

In his last year at Cal, Gigantino was also the Bears' recruiting coordinator, and he has major responsibilities in organizing USC's recruiting, too.

Born June 14, 1951, Gigantino played linebacker, tailback and fullback and also wrestled and played baseball at J.P. Stevens High School in Edison, N.J.

At Bridgeport University in Bridgeport, Conn., Artie was a three-year starter at linebacker during seasons in which the school won 22 straight games.

When he first became a full-time assistant at Cal, Gigantino was only 23, which made him one of the youngest full-time coaches in the country.

Later, when Mike White was replaced by Roger Theder as the Bears' head coach in 1978, Gigantino was one of only three staff members to be hired back by Theder.

HUDSON HOUCK

Offensive Line

When John Robinson became USC's head football coach in late 1975, the first man he hired was Hudson Houck.

And in three years, Hudson has coached two All-Americans, tackle Marvin Powell and guard Pat Howell.

Now 36, Houck came to USC after four years at Stanford, the last three as offensive line coach (1973 to 1975), but it was also a homecoming. He was a former Trojan player and freshman coach.

Born January 7, 1943, Hudson played and coached under John McKay. He was a reserve center on the national championship Trojan team of 1962, then started the last four games and lettered in 1963. Heavily counted on in 1964, Houck injured his back and played sparingly, the bad back keeping him from lettering.

A 1965 graduate of USC with a bachelor's degree in physical education, Houck was an assistant football coach and teacher at Crescenta Valley High School in 1967 and 1969. His career was interrupted twice by service in the Army.

Hudson came back to USC the first time in 1970 and spent two seasons as head freshman coach and varsity graduate assistant. His 1971 Trobabes — USC's last freshman team — went 4-0 and boasted such stars as Anthony Davis, Pat Haden, Richard Wood, Johnny McKay, Charles Phillips, Allen Carter and Marvin Cobb.

JOHN MARSHALL

Inside Linebackers

Although he's only 33, John Marshall is in his 11th season as a full-time college assistant coach — having spent eight years at Oregon before coming to USC in 1977.

Marshall is the fifth coach in recent history to make the switch from Oregon to USC, and it's proven successful for all of them. The others include John McKay, John Robinson, Bruce Snyder (now at Utah State) and current Trojan assistant Norv Turner.

Marshall coached the outside linebackers his first two seasons at USC but takes over the inside linebackers this season. At Oregon he coached the freshman team for three years and then tutored the offensive line his last five.

Previously, Marshall had served two seasons as a student assistant coach at Oregon. He had played frosh football at Washington State, but his career was cut short by a neck injury. He then transferred to Hancock Junior College and from there to Oregon, earning a B.S. in Health Education in 1969.

John was a three-year letterman in football and baseball at Arroyo Grande High School and earned All-CIF honors as a tackle and linebacker. He also lettered one year in wrestling.

NORVAL TURNER

Receivers

Former Oregon quarterback Norval Turner once threw a touchdown pass against USC. Now he coaches the Trojan receivers.

The 27-year-old Turner was a part-time coach on John Robinson's first staff in 1976, and he so impressed his boss with his hard work and ideas that he became a full-time assistant in the spring of 1977.

Currently ninth on Oregon's all-time passing list with 1,807 yards and 11 touchdowns, Turner lettered three years for the Ducks, started as a junior and senior and was named co-captain as a senior.

USC's national champions barely defeated Oregon and Turner, 16-7, in 1974 in a game made closer by Norv's 45-yard second quarter touchdown pass to Greg Bauer.

Born May 17, 1952, Turner was a quarterback and defensive back at Alhambra High in Martinez, California, going both ways as a senior and leading his team to a 9-0 mark and league championship.

Turner's best year at Oregon was his final one when he threw for 1,261 yards, completing 99 of 202 passes. He was named ABC-TV's Player of the Game in a regionally televised 27-23 victory over Air Force.

Norv graduated from Oregon in 1975 with a bachelor's degree in history, and spent one year as a graduate assistant on the Duck staff, coaching receivers on the varsity and quarterbacks and receivers on the JV's.

JERRY ATTAWAY

Offensive Line

Former Utah State aide Jerry Attaway is in his second year as a USC part-time coach. At Utah State, Attaway assisted Bruce Snyder, the ex-USC assistant coach.

Jerry played football with Trojan assistant Paul Hackett as a junior cornerback at UC Davis but was forced to quit in his first year there after suffering cardiac arrest. After a year away from the sport, he returned to assist Hackett with the UC Davis frosh.

At the same time he was a UC Davis coach, Attaway continued his education at Sacramento State and graduated in 1972 with a physical education degree.

Following graduation, he served as an assistant coach at College of Idaho for three years before joining the Utah State staff.

The 33-year-old Attaway was born in Susanville, January 3, 1946, and played four sports at Lassen High there. He played football for two years at Yuba Junior College before transferring to UC Davis.

MIKE CAREY

Defensive Backs

One of the most remarkable stories on the Trojan team recently was the way Mike Carey battled back from Hodgkin's Disease to play football again.

The 24-year-old Carey, who is beginning his second year on John Robinson's staff as a part-time coach, suffered from the disease in 1976 and had surgery after playing eight games that season. He came back to letter in 1977 as a reserve at rover back and holder on place kicks. He was the holder when Frank Jordan kicked his field goal with two seconds left that beat UCLA.

Not only that, but Mike also graduated cum laude with a 3.4 grade point average in industrial and systems engineering. He's currently working on a dual master's degree in engineering and business administration.

Carey also played quarterback at USC, seeing 20 minutes of action as a sophomore in 1975. He played briefly as a rover in 1973, appearing in the Rose Bowl, and redshirted in 1974.

He was an All-Northern California quarterback at San Francisco's Riordan High. In one prep game he passed for 140 yards, ran for 120 and scored 3 touchdowns while throwing for another.

GIL HASKELL

Special Teams

Gil Haskell is in his second season as a part-time coach at USC after coaching for nine years at St. Ignatius High in San Francisco. He is in charge of the special teams for the Trojans.

Haskell was head coach at St. Ignatius his last five years with a 34-15 record after serving the previous four seasons as an assistant. He also was track coach four years, winning three Catholic Athletic League titles.

Gil began his coaching career at Riordan High, also in San Francisco, serving as line coach for three years. He coached the Riordan track team to two league titles in three seasons.

The 36-year-old Haskell played on three Far West Conference champion football teams at San Francisco State as a defensive back. He was all-conference as a senior and "Little" All-Coast second team. He had a try-out with the San Francisco 49ers.

Born September 24, 1943, Gil played football and baseball at St. Ignatius High. He was a halfback and defensive back on three St. Ignatius champion football teams of the 3-A Division in San Francisco and a catcher on two 3-A Division champion baseball squads.

Haskell's uncle, the late Dr. William O'Grady, was a part-owner of the San Francisco 49ers, and before coming to USC in 1978, Gil had not missed a 49er home game in 22 years.

HAROLD STEELE

Defensive Line

Three years ago Harold Steele was USC's starting nose guard. Now he helps coach them.

In his third season as an undergraduate assistant coach, Steele made 58 tackles (seventh on the team) for the 1976 USC defense that led the Pac-10 and also allowed only 93 points in its last 11 games. That team wound up 11-1 and ranked No. 2 in the nation.

Harold was a two-year letterman at USC, after transferring from San Diego City College where he was a first team JC All-American in the defensive line and MVP of the Mission Conference.

He redshirted in 1974 and made 34 tackles at nose guard in 1975.

The 25-year-old Steele was an All-CIF San Diego selection as an offensive and defensive lineman at Lincoln High, playing under former All-Pro defensive end Earl Faison.

He played one year at Arizona State before transferring to San Diego City College. Steele was born February 13, 1954.

ATHLETIC STAFF

DR. RICHARD H. PERRY

Athletic Director

In the athletic director's office at USC there's no hint of an energy crisis.

In four years on the job, energetic Dick Perry has maintained the remarkable tradition of the country's most successful athletic department.

USC is far and away the leader in national team titles won, and, given Dick's constant support, the Trojans have added 14 more national championships in his era — eight by the men and six by the women.

In the last four years Dick has met with more people, made more speeches, answered more urgent phone calls and solved more problems than anyone this side of a 1980 presidential candidate.

When he was appointed athletic director by USC president Dr. John Hubbard in November, 1975, Dick was an associate professor of physical education at USC, a post he had held for eight years. He had also been involved in the university leadership. A member of the faculty senate for six years, he served as president of that body in 1974-75.

And, of course, he brought a strong background in athletics to his new job. Before coming to USC, he was head basketball coach at California State University, Long Beach, for nine years and also spent three seasons there as assistant football coach.

In1975-76, he served as president of the Southwest District of the American Alliance for Health, Physical Education and Recreation. He was president of the California Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation in 1971-72.

When Dr. Perry became head basketball coach at Long Beach in 1958, there was no scholarship help and the team was playing exclusively small colleges. He built the program to a level where the 49ers were playing intersectional games with such teams as Oklahoma State, Wichita State and Creighton and playing doubleheaders with USC and UCLA.

His Long Beach team reached the finals of the College Division Western Regional playoffs in 1960.

Dick left Cal State, Long Beach when offered an associate professorship at USC in 1967 and received his Ph.D. degree from USC in 1968.

Now 50, the athletic director was born July 13, 1929. He graduated from Long Beach Wilson High School and received his bachelor's degree from the College of Emporia in Kansas in 1951 and his master's degree from Kansas State Teachers College.

Dr. Perry and his wife, Donna, live in Garden Grove. They have four children: Jim, 27, a graduate of USC and assistant basketball coach at Utah; Joan, 23, a USC graduate; John, 21, a junior at USC; and Janelle, 13.

VIRGIL LUBBERDEN

Associate Athletic Director

Around Christmas time every year, there is someone almost as busy as Santa Claus. He's Virgil Lubberden, one of USC's four associate athletic directors.

Besides his USC duties, Lubberden is the game manager for the Rose Bowl, the granddaddy of all the New Year's Day classics. He made his Rose Bowl debut as manager in 1963 when USC beat Wisconsin in that memorable 42-37 game. After several years of alternating as Rose Bowl manager with his UCLA counterpart, Virg was named to the position permanently in 1973.

In his 16th year of managing USC's business affairs, Lubberden became an associate athletic director four years ago. He had served as an assistant athletic director the previous three years.

As the business manager, Virg formulates the USC athletic budget that covers 24 sports. He also prepares contracts with opponents in all sports and negotiates rental fees with the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum for football and Sports Arena for basketball.

His other responsibilities include the purchase of athletic medical insurance, negotiation for radio and television coverage, supervision of game management for home events and assisting in the scheduling of football opponents.

Last year he took on the added duty of Director of University Relations for the ticket office.

A USC graduate, Lubberden received his bachelor of science degree in business administration in 1949.

NICK PAPPAS

Associate Athletic Director

Nick Pappas is the man behind USC's strong, active athletic support groups. Now in his 26th year, he has built the Trojan booster group into the most successful organization of its kind in the nation.

Born in Seattle, Pappas entered USC in 1934 and lettered three years as a tailback for Coach Howard Jones. Following his graduation in 1938, he spent two years in law school and also assisted the Trojan frosh under Julie Bescos in 1936 and Gus Shaver in 1939. He played pro football with the Hollywood Bears in 1938 and 1939.

He scouted for pro clubs for six seasons and for USC two years before becoming a Trojan assistant football coach in 1953. He became the Director of Trojan Club Affairs and Athletic Fund-Raising in 1959. Two years later, he became Assistant Director of Planning. Since 1962, he has been Director of Athletic Funding, consisting of Trojan Club, Cardinal and Gold, Trojaneers, Football Alumni Club, Trojan Coaches Club and Women's Trojan Club.

BARBARA HEDGES

Associate Athletic Director

Following the lead of USC's highly successful men's teams, dynamic Barbara Hedges has guided the Trojan women's program into one of the finest of its kind in the nation.

Mrs. Hedges, in her fifth year as coordinator of women's athletics, handles seven sports — basketball, golf, gymnastics, swimming, tennis, track and field and volleyball.

Although the Trojan women's teams had never won a national championship before Hedges' arrival, they have won six in her first four years. The volleyball team won back-to-back titles in 1977 and 1978 while the tennis team has captured four national championships, including one last spring.

Barbara is currently serving as President of the Western Collegiate Athletic Association and treasurer of the Western Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women and is a member of the AIAW Credentials Committee and AIAW Committee on Men's Athletics.

BOB BOYD

Associate Athletic Director

Bob Boyd joined Dick Perry's administrative staff this year after 13 years as USC's head basketball coach.

The 49-year-old Boyd will be in charge of athletic promotions and sales. He's working to increase revenues for all sports through improved attendance and innovative special events.

Bob brought his last Trojan team to the second round of the NCAA playoffs last year, finishing with a 20-9 overall record and 14-4 mark for second place in the Pac-10.

He concluded his USC coaching career with a record of 216-131, making him the third winningest coach in Trojan basketball history. His 15-year major college record, including two years at Seattle, is 257-144.

In the 72 years that USC has been playing basketball, Bob is the only Trojan coach who won as many as 24 games in a season — and he did it twice. He turned in USC's best record ever in 1971 when he finished 24-2, and then in 1974 he drove the Trojans to a 24-5 record.

Boyd started at center on the USC basketball team under the late Forrest Twogood, leading the Trojans in scoring in both 1951 and 1952 and was named the team's Most Valuable Player in 1952.

He coached a year at El Segundo High School, four years at Alhambra High School and six at Santa Ana Junior College before his first major college post at Seattle. He had only two losing seasons in 19 years of college coaching.

JAMES DENNIS

Assistant Athletic Director

Serving as an assistant athletic director under Dr. Richard Perry is only one of the many duties of Dr. James M. Dennis at USC.

Dr. Dennis, 35, in his seventh year as an assistant A.D., also is involved as the Director of Campus Life and Recreation which includes administering USC's comprehensive student co-curricular programs.

As assistant athletic director, he supervises all special events hosted by USC, such as the NCAA Tennis Championships and Pacific-10 Track, Swimming and Baseball Championships. He also assists in the administration of the crew, golf, gymnastics, sailing, skiing, soccer and volleyball programs.

Dr. Dennis received his doctor's degree in athletic administration from USC. While working on that degree, he served as an assistant swimming coach for Peter Daland's Trojan teams from 1971 through 1973.

RAY GEORGE

Assistant Athletic Director

Still ranked as an all-time Trojan line great, Ray George returned to USC in 1971 as an assistant athletic director.

George was never outplayed in his three years at USC and played a key role in the 1939 Rose Bowl win over Duke. Following his graduation, Ray played two years of pro football with Detroit in 1939 and Philadelphia in 1940.

He served in World War II aboard an aircraft carrier and was discharged with the rank of Lt. Commander.

Ray joined the Trojan coaching staff as line coach in 1946 and served in that capacity through 1950. He became head coach at Texas A&M in 1951 and coached the Aggies for three seasons.

He retired from coaching following the 1953 season and went into private business. Don Clark persuaded the popular George to rejoin the USC staff in 1958. George was on the Trojan staff for seven years, five as John McKay's senior assistant, before returning to private business.

Ray has a real Trojan family. His wife, Martha, graduated from USC in 1939. One son, Jack, graduated from the USC School of Dentistry in 1966 and in Orthodontics in 1976 and another, Greg, played on the Trojan football team and graduated from the School of Business in 1971.

DAVE LEVY

Assistant Athletic Director, Commentator

Dave Levy, following 16 years as an assistant football coach under John McKay, is now in his fourth year as a full-time assistant athletic director at USC.

Levy assists Nick Pappas in athletic funding with an emphasis on special projects. He's also the color man on the telecasts of USC football games and San Diego Chargers' preseason contests.

Levy was named to his present position in December of 1975 by new athletic director Dr. Richard Perry. He had served as both an assistant A.D. and assistant football coach the previous four years.

The genial Levy came to Troy following a highly successful three-year coaching career at Long Beach Poly High School. In the three years he was at Long Beach, the Jackrabbits compiled a 28-1-1 record, winning the CIF championship in 1958 and 1959.

Before becoming head coach at Long Beach Poly in 1957, Levy assisted with the UCLA frosh (1954), was an assistant at Long Beach City College (1955) and was line coach at Poly (1956).

GEORGE YABLONSKY

Head Equipment Manager

George Yablonsky begins his 13th year as USC's head equipment manager.

Yablonsky served as equipment manager for two years at Orange Coast College and six years at Santa Ana College before coming to USC.

He retired from the Marine Corps after serving for 22 years. He worked for 18 years as an aviation manager and the last four in the athletics division of special services as an equipment manager.

Yablonsky is assisted by Bill Sutton and Phil Hollenbaugh.

JACK WARD

Head Trainer

Jack Ward begins his 22nd year on the USC training staff. He's been the head trainer the last 20 years after serving one year as an assistant.

Ward has worked under three football coaches — Don Clark, John McKay and now John Robinson. He's currently assisted by Paul Williams, Bob Smetanka, Jim Anderson, Martin Moore, Carol Cassidy and Sue Schneider.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska, he worked at his alma mater for four years as an assistant trainer until 1956. He then attended Therapy School at the Herman Hospital in Houston, Texas for two years.

Following his graduation from Therapy School, he served as a physical therapist with the County Health Department in Sacramento for one year.

RADIO BROADCASTERS

TOM KELLY

Play-by-Play Broadcaster

Sportscaster Tom Kelly has been involved with USC football since about the time freshmen on the 1979 varsity were born.

The colorful voice of the Trojans first began calling play-by-play of USC football and basketball in 1961 and has broadcast the games on either radio or television every year since. Currently, he does the football games on KNX radio (1070 in Los Angeles) with commentator Jim Perry.

Besides broadcasting Trojan games this season, Kelly will also call all 20 exhibition and regular season games of the San Diego Chargers. Weekdays, he does twice-a-day sportscasts on KNX radio.

In his 28th year as a broadcaster, Kelly is a Minneapolis native who began his career in the Midwest at stations in Duluth, Minn., Des Moines, Iowa, and Peoria, Ill..

Tom has won several awards in his career, including three Golden Mikes, but gets just as excited away from the action when he's playing golf. He takes his clubs on every Trojan trip.

JIM PERRY

Sports Information Director, Commentator

Jim Perry, who is also the color commentator and interviewer on USC's football broadcasts on radio station KNX, is in his sixth year as sports information director.

A former sportswriter, Perry collaborated with former USC coach John McKay on his popular autobiography, McKay: A Coach's Story, before coming to USC.

Now 37, Perry moved to USC after six years writing sports for the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner. He covered USC football and wrote features on the Dodgers, Angels, Lakers, boxing and track.

A 1964 graduate of USC, Perry has also written sports for KMPC radio and United Press International and was USC's assistant sports information director in 1966.

In 1967 he was sports producer at KTLA (Channel 5), writing the nightly sportscasts for Dick Enberg and Keith Jackson.

Perry's staff includes assistants Dennis Kirkpatrick and Tim Tessalone and secretary Nancy Mazmanian.

A LOOK AT USC IN 1979...

Last fall a young USC team fought through one of the country's toughest schedules to go 12-1 and win the national championship — winding up No. 1 in the UPI poll. Fifteen starters — eight on offense and seven on defense — return from that team.

So, what's ahead in 1979?

"We have the potential to be excellent again," says coach John Robinson, "It would be senseless for me to deny that.

"But we've got three major problems. First, we've got 11 key players, six of them starters, coming off injuries, and nine of those had surgery. They've all made good progress, but we won't know how strong they are until they go out on the field under pressure every day. Believe me, I'm nervous about that.

"Second, we have a very difficult road schedule. Six of our 11 games are away from home, and most of those are against very good teams.

"And third, with the balance in college football today, repeating is more difficult than ever. We face that seductive process of people telling us we're good before we've ever won a game.

"I'm sure most of the people picking USC to be No. 1 or No. 2 also said Spectacular Bid was a cinch to win the Triple Crown."

Robinson has always been an optimistic but realistic man, and in three years at USC he's also been a very successful one. The Trojans are 31-6 in the Robinson era, including three straight bowl victories, and they'll bring an eight-game winning streak into the opener at Texas Tech.

USC will be bidding for its 10th Rose Bowl trip in 14 years and coming off a 17-10 defeat of Michigan in the last one. Including the 15 starters, there will be 48 squad members back from last year, including 35 who played at least 30 minutes.

But the coach is not exaggerating the problems posed by that unusual road schedule. The six trips include Notre Dame, LSU, Texas Tech, Washington, California and Oregon State.

OFFENSE

In three years as coach Robinson has continued the stunning success of USC's tailback-oriented running game, and also created a passing attack good for 57 touchdowns in that span. The potential of the 1979 attack is awesome, given the talents of tailback Charles White and quarterback Paul McDonald, both seniors.

A unanimous All-American and top Heisman Trophy candidate, Charlie is on his way to becoming the No. 2 rusher in NCAA history (behind only Tony Dorsett). In three years he's already zipped for 4,195 yards — tops in Pac-10 history — and averaged 5.1 a carry. His regular season rushing total is 3,795 yards, and an output of 1,383 would push him past 13 other players, including Archie Griffin and his second place total of 5,177.

As a junior White ran for 1,859 yards and 13 touchdowns, averaged 5 yards a carry, was USC's second leading receiver with 22 catches and was the nation's leading all-purpose runner with 174.7 yards a game. The coaches also rate him an excellent blocker.

"Charlie's the best football player in America," says Robinson. "And he's the most durable player I've ever coached. I think he could play a doubleheader."

McDonald, the cool lefthanded quarterback, threw so well

last season — his first as a starter — that he would have been the leading passer in the nation if the NCAA's new rating system in effect this season had been used then.

He tied the USC record for TD passes with 19 (one every 10.7 attempts), completed 57% of his throws for 1,690 yards, had only 7 interceptions in 203 attempts, and was the leading passer in a pass-conscious league, the Pac-10. He threw scoring passes in 10 of his 12 games (missing Hawaii with a sprained ankle).

"Paul is an excellent passer," says Robinson, "with the ability to scramble and watch downfield at the same time, so he can change his mind quickly if a play breaks down. He's also very confident, very brave, an outstanding leader and one of the coolest people I've ever seen."

There's a big question on offense, however.

"It's how well will the fullback position do?" says Robinson. "We need to get good performances from the people we have there."

The leader in the fight to replace graduated Lynn Cain (977 yards rushing last fall) is sophomore Marcus Allen, a high school quarterback who ran for 171 yards as a freshman tailback and averaged 5.5 a carry. The fullback in the I-formation takes a tremendous pounding, however, and Allen is still learning to block.

To catch McDonald's passes, there's an outstanding corps of wide receivers and tight ends. All-Pac-10 flanker Kevin Williams, a junior who's run the 100 meters in 10.27 and led off two straight NCAA championship 400-meter relay teams, is one of the most dangerous receivers in America. He caught 17 passes last year, and 10 went for touchdowns. His career average is 20.5 yards a catch.

Co-starters at split end are two seniors, Dan Garcia and Ray Butler who averaged 18.7 and 16.3 yards on 9 and 7 catches, respectively, last season as reserves. Butler also returns punts and kickoffs. USC has good depth at this position, headed by redshirt freshmen Timmy White and Jeff Simmons.

All three tight ends return from last season. The three juniors include 1978 starter James Hunter (10 catches, 9.4 average, 2 TDs), Vic Rakhshani (9 catches, 8.6 average, 2 TDs) and Hoby Brenner (3 catches, 11.3 average, 1 TD). Rakhshani also plays flanker in the tricky Trojan attack.

"From a depth standpoint, tight end is the strongest position on our team," said Robinson. "There will be times we'll use all three in the game at once."

Four of five starters in the offensive line return, including senior preseason All-Americans Anthony Munoz at weakside tackle and Brad Budde at strongside guard. Both were first team All-Pac-10 as juniors, while Munoz was also second team All-American and Budde honorable mention.

"Munoz has to be the leading Outland Trophy candidate in the country," says Robinson. "He's potentially the finest lineman I've ever been around. Both he and Budde should be All-Americans. Brad is a complete football player himself — tough, intelligent, aggressive and intense."

Other starters back up front are junior strongside tackle Keith Van Horne and senior center Chris Foote. There's inexperience at weakside guard, however, where sophomore Roy Foster has great promise, but takes over as a starter with only 34 minutes of playing time behind him.

Among experienced backups who will contribute heavily on offense are senior Rob Preston at quarterback who played well when he started for the injured McDonald against Hawaii last season; senior Scott Fraser, who can play either guard or center; and senior center Brad Green.

Players coming off injuries include starters Munoz, Hunter and Foote, backups Fraser and Green and two other reserves who could provide backfield help, senior tailback Michael Hayes and sophomore fullback Paul DiLulo.

DEFENSE

USC has led the Pac-8/Pac-10 in defense in six of the last seven years and was No. 2 in the nation in rushing defense in 1978, allowing just 91.3 yards a game. The Trojans also intercepted 27 passes.

"This should be a very good defense," said Robinson, "with great speed and quickness. In fact, in mobility it should be the equal of our 1976 team (which allowed only 93 points in the last 11 games).

"We did lose three of our top four cornerbacks and some very strong leaders like Rich Dimler (nose guard) and Garry Cobb (outside linebacker). We'll have to replace them."

The defense returns seven full-time starters and one part-time starter, headed by senior preseason All-American Dennis Johnson at inside linebacker. The leading tackler for the Trojans in each of the last two seasons, Johnson brought down 124 runners last year and also intercepted a pass, deflected seven others and called defensive signals. He was first team All-Pac-10 and honorable mention All-American as a junior.

"Dennis is one of the premier players in the country," said Robinson, "He's got excellent size and speed and great range, and he defends the pass as well as any linebacker I've ever seen. He should be an All-American."

Also back at inside linebacker is sophomore Riki Gray, who was third on the team in tackles with 86, including 7 for losses, returned an interception 25 yards for a TD and made 15 tackles against Michigan in the Rose Bowl.

A returning starter at one outside linebacker spot is quick Larry McGrew, who made 57 tackles, and back also at outside linebacker are junior Eric Scoggins, who started four games early in the season when Cobb, the senior regular, was hurt, and sophomore Chip Banks, who started two games inside as a freshman. Scoggins, ABC-TV's Defensive Player of the Game in the win over Alabama, had 44 tackles, 8 for losses, and Banks made 45 tackles.

Two starters return in the three-man defensive line, senior tackle Myron Lapka, a three-year starter who made 61 tackles last year, including 11 for losses, and junior nose guard Ty Sperling, who had 64 tackles, including 9 for losses, and was named ABC's Defensive Player of the Game in the win over UCLA. Lapka and Sperling (who moved to nose guard from tackle) will be joined as down linemen by fast-starting sophomore Dennis Edwards, who made 51 tackles as a freshman reserve, including a team-leading 16 for 116 yards in losses.

Rover and safety are in the outstanding hands of junior returning starters Ronnie Lott and Dennis Smith. Lott made 63 tackles, including 5 for losses, broke up 7 passes, recovered 4 fumbles and made 3 interceptions. Smith led the Trojans in interceptions with 7 for 77 yards, was fourth on the team in tackles with 71, led the defense in minutes played and knocked down 6 more passes.

One cornerback is senior Herb Ward, who started 5 games last season and intercepted 5 passes, including a 64-yarder for a touchdown. The other corner is junior Jeff Fisher, who was moved to defense from wide receiver in the spring and impressed the coaches.

Other experienced players who should contribute heavily on defense are junior inside linebacker Steve Busick and senior inside backer Mike McDonald, senior defensive tackle Brad Streelman and junior defensive back Kenney Moore.

Players coming off injuries are starters Gray, Lapka and Sperling, and Banks, who's considered a co-starter.

KICKERS

The Trojans lost both their placekicker, Frank Jordan, and punter, Marty King, to graduation but have two new kickers with excellent potential.

Redshirt freshman David Pryor, who has kicked long and high in practice, will be the punter, while JC transfer Eric Hipp starts as the No. 1 placekicker. A first team All-State choice, Hipp tied the California JC record for distance with a 57-yard field goal that brought his team a 24-24 tie — with no time left on the clock. Senior kickoff specialist Rob Kerr, who also can placekick, is on hand, too.

Meet Heisman Trophy Candidate Charles White

Born: January 22, 1958
Birthplace: Los Angeles
Age: 21
Height: 6-0
Weight: 185
Class: Senior
Major: Speech Communications
Number: 12

A leading candidate for the Heisman Trophy this season, Charles White is on his way to being the second greatest career rusher in NCAA history — behind only Tony Dorsett. As a 1978 junior Charlie was a unanimous All-American pick.

He comes into his senior year already the leading career rusher in Pac-10 history with 4,195 yards and a 5.1 average per carry, after passing such brilliant tailbacks as O.J. Simpson, Mike Garrett, Anthony Davis and Ricky Bell last year. Charlie's regular season total is 3,795 yards, and an output of 1,383 would send him past 13 other runners on the NCAA list, including Archie Griffin and his second place total of 5,177.

"I'm trying to think back, but I don't remember ever playing against a tailback that can run like that White."

— BEAR BRYANT, Alabama coach

As a junior White zipped for 1,859 yards and 13 touchdowns, averaged 5 yards a carry, was USC's second leading receiver with 22 catches, returned 7 kickoffs for a 20.7 average, and led the nation in all-purpose running with 174.7 yards a game. He's now had 18 100-yard rushing days in 26 starts, including 205 against Notre Dame, 201 against Stanford and 199 against co-national champ Alabama last season. His 1978 rushing average per game was 143 yards.

Coach John Robinson, who also coached Bell and Davis, marvels at the latest great USC runner.

"Charlie's the best football player in America," says Robinson. "He's a fierce competitor who's both elusive and powerful as a runner, has great balance and vision, is an excellent receiver, and is the most durable player I've ever coached.

"The other runners occasionally got tired. Charlie doesn't. I think he could play a doubleheader.

"He's the toughest player I've ever seen, too. If you're gonna intimidate him, it might take you a month. You better bring your lunch with you...and your dinner."

Robinson calls White an outstanding team player, too.

"I'm a tremendous admirer of White because he's so durable. I can't believe the guy could run 374 times without getting hurt."

— BO SCHEMBECHLER, Michigan coach

"He has an unusual amount of strength in him as a person," said the coach. "We could tell him, 'Charlie, we need you at linebacker this week,' and he wouldn't even blink. He'd say, 'Okay, let's go.' Last year he made two or three blocks on some of fullback Lynn Cain's runs.

"You know, no other great USC tailback ever had the pressure on him like Charles did right from the beginning of his freshman year — but he's handled it. I can't tell you how much I admire the guy."

The 1978 Pac-10 Player of the Year, White finished fourth in the Heisman Trophy race in his first try.

As a 1977 sophomore he reeled off 1,478 yards (5.2 average), rushed for over 100 yards in 8 of 12 games and caught 9 passes for a 15.3 average. He ran for 7 TDs and caught screen passes for 2 more (22 and 25 yards) and would up being named first team All-West Coast and first team All-Pac-8.

White closed out that season by dashing for 187 yards on 21 carries in USC's 47-28 victory over Texas A&M in the Bluebonnet Bowl — second highest rushing total in the 20-year history of the game. Included in the outburst were a 62-yard run that set up a TD and that 25-yard scoring romp with a screen pass.

Charlie has been touched by greatness since he first donned a Trojan uniform. On his third USC carry he broke two tackles and ran 6 yards for a touchdown. On his sixth he ran 79 for another touchdown. And all of that took place in USC's first 1976 game against Missouri.

"White is the best back I've ever played against. When we hit him, he still had momentum, and, believe me, it was hard to get a good lick on him. He's quick, he's agile and he's powerful, and he explodes so fast it seems like he can break a long run at any time."

— BARRY KRAUSS, All-American linebacker, Alabama

White began his freshman campaign as Heisman runner-up Ricky Bell's backup, but saw more and more action as Bell suffered a series of injuries, Charlie finishing with 858 yards, 10 rushing TDs and a 5.5 average. Besides 79, he had scoring runs of 60 yards (Iowa), 35 (Oregon State) and ran 34 with a screen pass to score an 11th TD (also Oregon State).

One of White's four 100-yard games as a freshman came in the Rose Bowl against second-ranked Michigan, when he took over for the injured Bell five minutes into the game and ran for 114 yards in the 14-6 victory. Included in the effort was a 7-yard touchdown run that virtually clinched the game with 3:03 left.

At San Fernando High — also the alma mater of Anthony Davis — White was Southern California Prep Athlete of the Year for 1975-76 and one of only three athletes to ever be named Player of the Year in two sports (football and track). In football he shared Los Angeles City Player of the Year honors with San Fernando and USC teammates Kevin Williams and Kenney Moore, was chosen Scholastic Coach All-American in 1975 and first team All-City in both 1974 and 1975.

Playing fullback in the Wishbone, White averaged 9.5 yards a carry as a senior and 9.9 as a junior, running for 1,155 yards in 1975 and 1,165 in 1974. In track he set a U.S. prep record for the 330-yard low hurdles (36.0) in the spring of 1976.

A Talk With Charles White...

Have you thought much about winning the Heisman Trophy?

"When I was a freshman I told a writer I was anxious to win two or three of them. But, boy, was I talking out of my head. I was immature. Football goals should be team goals, and I've realized that if a Heisman comes, it belongs to 22 people.

"It would be great to win it, but what I want USC to do is keep winning, and honors will take care of themselves. In fact, one of my biggest goals is getting as much publicity as possible for my offensive linemen — guys like Anthony Munoz, Brad Budde, Keith Van Horne, Chris Foote, James Hunter and Roy Foster."

Last year it seemed like you mentioned everyone in the line after every game.

"Those are the guys that make it possible for me to gain yardage. They open up the holes and I just run through 'em. Without them I'm nothing. They're the ones who make it possible for me to be interviewed by all the reporters.

"There's 11 of us out there with assignments, and if all 11 don't perform, WE don't do well."

No matter how well they block, you're still going to get tackled 30 times a game. How do you keep from getting hurt?

"Knowing how to protect yourself is part of being a smart runner. When I know I'm going down — for instance when two guys have my legs — I just go down. You can't go anywhere without your legs.

"I'll try and keep going if I feel my body going forward — but not if I'm stopped. There's no reason to stand up like a hero still trying to charge ahead. Then you're a target and that's when people take shots at you. That's when you get hurt."

Are you sore after games?

"If I wasn't sore, it would mean I must have been dreaming and not playing tailback. On Sunday I lay around and relax until I have to go to our workout. But it's on Monday that I feel the worst — both sore and tired. I'm really dragging then. I protect my chest pretty well, but my legs and arms really hurt."

John Robinson says he's never seen you tired in a game.

"Oh, man, he doesn't know. I get tired all right. But I work hard to get in the best condition I can. In the summer I run 440s, 330s, 220s and 110s on the track, and from January to August I play a lot of basketball. Basketball is great for your wind and really helps your quickness, too.

"In practice our coaches yell at all the backs to run 40 yards after EVERY practice play. But I run 50...or 60.

"During games I don't think about being tired or how hard people are hitting. I'm thinking of my assignments and where the ball is and how many yards we need."

Do defenses try and intimidate you?

"Sure. They jump up and down yelling over me, particularly if I get thrown for a loss. And sometimes you can hear them chanting on defense, 'Stop Charlie White! Stop Charlie White!' But I've never talked back to a tackler. I just throw the ball to the referee and run back to the huddle.

"A champion doesn't talk. We're not trying to intimidate other people. We're trying to play football."

What makes you so intense?

"I hate to lose. When I get in uniform, I become another person...much more intense. I'm motivated to go 100%. If I'm supposed to fake or block, I do that 100%, too.

"I was playing pool with a girl one time and she beat me. She just kept talking about it, talking about it, and so there was no way I was going home until I beat her. I had to stand in line behind three other guys — and she beat 'em all — to get another chance. But I finally beat her."

I understand when you started playing football you used to fight when you got tackled.

"I was always very competitive. And when I thought I shouldn't have been tackled, I got mad. I thought if I didn't hit the guy who tackled me, I'd be upset with myself. I got thrown out of the first Pop Warner game I ever played for coming up swinging."

You're not easily satisfied as a player. Friends say you were mad at yourself after the Alabama game last year even though you'd gained 199 yards and USC won by 10 points.

"I've never been satisfied with a game I've played. I criticize myself a lot afterwards because of the things I should have done. After Alabama I wasn't satisfied at all, because I fumbled on their goal line.

"People usually walk up to me after games and tell me how great I played, but I know what I've done and most of the time I'm mad about it. My girl friend says I'm grumpy.

"I'd like to have the perfect game. And, although I know it's not possible, if you set your standards high, it makes you tougher."

Speaking of toughness, why did you choose USC in the first place? There were a lot of good tailbacks here then, including Ricky Bell.

"First, I wanted to stay close to home and my grandparents, Bertha and Jessie Leggett, who helped raise me. But I also felt I was one of the best players around and wanted to prove it. I figured if I could start at USC, I'd have to be pretty good.

"When John Robinson first walked into my house, I said, 'You don't have to say anything to me, because I'm coming.'"

Did the thought of all that competition scare you?

"Yes, but I like a challenge. In choosing USC, I knew there was going to be all the competition in the world. I knew it would make me better."

You mentioned your grandparents. Why did you live with them?

"When my parents were first divorced, my mother and all of us kids moved in with my grandparents for a while. They're her parents. Then my mother, whose name is Hattie, moved into a house that was in more of a ghetto area, and I didn't like it at all. I was used to friends who played sports, and all a lot of those people did was hang out on the street.

"I remember one time I got beat up by some older guys just sitting in the park. I thought, 'Hey, I don't want to live where I get jumped on just going to the park to enjoy myself.' So my brothers, Roosevelt and Richard, and I were allowed to move back in with my grandparents."

What are your grandparents like?

"Jessie, my grandfather, is more easy going. He let us do a lot of things. But Bertha Leggett was tough. She knew how to raise boys. I remember one time I needed her signature to play flag football in the fifth grade, and she wouldn't give it to me. She thought I'd get hurt.

"So I forged her name on the permit. I knew it was wrong, but I wanted to play."

What happened to you?

"She gave me a good whipping."

Does Bertha Leggett like football now?

"She doesn't understand it at all. All she knows about the game is that, 'You score touchdowns and get beat up.' Every time I see her after a game she says, 'Doesn't it hurt when all those people fall on you?' "

Where do you live now?

"Three or four miles from USC in a residential area with mostly older people. It's nice and quiet. You don't have people knocking on your door all the time looking for a party. I used to live behind Fraternity Row, and it drove me crazy.

"And it's easier to be away from school. Now that people know me, if I don't say hello all the time, they think I'm a snob."

What do you do for relaxation?

"I like to fool around playing the piano. I can play some blues, a little jazz — usually something I make up. But it's just for fun. I'm not gonna put anything on the market."

USC PLAYER SKETCHES

(Players are listed in alphabetical order by position.)

OFFENSE

QUARTERBACKS

(2) GORDON ADAMS — 6-1, 195, 21, Jr.

A spring, 1977 walkon, Adams is a non-scholarship player who has impressed the coaches both with his physical ability and his intelligence. He's a business major with an overall 3.79 grade point average.

Although he wasn't recruited by the Trojans, Adams has a strong arm and understands the offense very well, according to the coaching staff. He needs to improve his foot quickness and the timing of his passes, and he needs more work in game-type situations. But the coaches feel he has worked extremely hard so far and is continually improving.

Gordon hasn't played in a game since 1975 when he was the All-Sunset League quarterback at Newport Harbor High and had a 300-yard passing day. He was also first team all-conference as a first baseman in baseball and student body president.

He's an active young man who enjoys skiing, tennis and racquetball. The toughest players he's ever thrown against? USC defensive backs Dennis Smith and Ron Lott.

(18) JIM ARRIVEY — 6-5, 202, 19, Fr.

One of four redshirted freshman quarterbacks in 1978, Arrivey is considered a great athlete with great potential by the coaches, who feel he's just beginning to develop as a college quarterback.

Jim was an outstanding three-sport athlete in high school, but needs to improve his arm strength, his consistency in throwing and his foot quickness — although he does have pretty good straight-ahead speed. At Seattle's Shorecrest High he led the Seattle Metropolitan League in passing as a senior with 1,200 yards, firing 12 touchdown passes and running for 3 as he led his team to an 8-2 mark and second place. He was the all-league quarterback, and had one game where he hit 14 of 26 for 220 yards and the game-winning 73-yard TD pass.

For the basketball team Arrivey broke the school rebounding record, averaged 16 points a game and captained a squad that went 18-6. In track he high jumped 6-5.

Jim says he came to USC because of its great tradition. He's a good student with an overall grade point average of 3.10 in the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences. And when he wants to get away from everyday pressure, he goes fishing.

(19) GREG BRADY — 6-3, 210, 20, So.

In his third year at USC, Brady has not yet played in a Trojan game but got good experience last fall throwing against the No. 1 Trojan defense as he played the part of the opponent quarterback. The coaches say he's a good leader with a strong arm, who must work very hard to improve his passing accuracy.

Brady fell behind the other quarterbacks fighting for the 1980 job, however, when he broke a finger on his passing hand last spring five days into practice. He also underwent a hernia operation after drills were over.

In 1976 Brady was the Arizona Player of the Year, as he led Scottsdale's Coronado High School to a 13-0 season and the state championship. He was named All-American on the Scholastic Coach, Parade and Joe Namath Prep Magazine teams, throwing for 1,323 yards as a senior, despite missing a lot of action with a shoulder injury. He also was an All-State first baseman for the baseball team.

Greg is a public administration major who also likes engineering and says his favorite hobbies are hunting and fishing.

(16) PAUL McDONALD — 6-2, 180, 21, Sr.

USC has never had an All-American quarterback. Paul McDonald could be the first.

In 1978 — his first year as a starter — McDonald threw so well he would have been the leading passer in the nation if the NCAA's new quarterback rating formula in effect this season had been used then.

He tied the USC school record for touchdown passes with 19 (one every 10.7 attempts), completed 57% of his throws for 1,690 yards, had only 7 interceptions in 203 attempts, and was the leading passer in a pass-conscious league, the Pac-10. In fact, his rating of 101.6 (based on the NFL formula) was higher than all the yearly champions in the previous 19 years of the conference.

Paul threw touchdown passes in 10 of his 12 games last season (he missed one, Hawaii, with a sprained ankle) and had one stretch of 111 attempts without an interception. In six straight USC wins late in the year (Oregon State, California, Stanford, Washington, UCLA and Notre Dame), he completed 64.4% of his passes for 12 TD's, 1,023 yards and threw one interception.

"McDonald had one of the best seasons any USC quarterback has ever had," said John Robinson. "Both physically and intellectually he was simply outstanding. As a leader he's held in awe by the other players on our team, and he's flat out one of the coolest people I've ever seen. When everything is going wrong, he thinks, 'I'll come up with a way for us to win.'

"His passes zip straight to our receivers, and he also has the ability to scramble and watch downfield at the same time, so he can change his mind quickly if a play breaks down. He's also very brave. If he has to, he'll stand in there and throw with an army coming down on him.

"Against Alabama (with USC ahead 17-7), we called a long touchdown pass to Kevin Williams which would only work if they didn't blitz their rover. Well, they blitzed their rover, and Paul had about half a second to decide what to do.

"He got the pass off high enough so Kevin would have a chance to catch it and far enough so it would be like a punt if it was intercepted. And, just as he released the ball, he got belted. It went 40 yards for a touchdown. That's the kind of quick thinker he is."

In that crucial 24-14 win over co-national champ Alabama, McDonald dissected an outstanding defense so well that USC rolled up 417 yards and 23 first downs. He completed 9 of 16 passes, including another TD throw — a 6-yarder to Williams.

Against California, Paul tied USC's single-game record with 4 touchdown passes and threw 2 each against UCLA, Notre Dame, Michigan State, Oregon State, Washington and, of course, Alabama.

As a 1976 freshman McDonald was 3 for 7 passing as the backup to Vince Evans and Rob Hertel and then 17 for 27 as Hertel's backup in 1977. He came to USC from Bishop Amat High (also Pat Haden's alma mater), where he had been recruited for two years by California, but not by USC. When John Robinson became coach, hiring Paul Hackett from Cal, they went after McDonald.

"I had mixed emotions," Paul says, "but coaches Robinson and Hackett told me they wanted the quarterback position to become more important at USC and that I was the first recruit to fit into those plans. The fact I was the first one recruited in this new era intrigued me, and I decided I wanted to learn from Coach Hackett.

"That's one of the reasons I finally chose USC — that and the winning tradition, the academic environment and the proximity to my home."

A business major, McDonald was a second team Academic All-American last season and has an overall 3.70 grade point average. "In the near future I'd like to get a master's degree in business administration," he says, "and maybe go to law school later on."

He may even have loftier goals. Asked once if he could be anyone in the world, he said: "The President of the U.S. The thought that an entire nation would depend on my competence seems challenging and exhilarating to me."

McDonald is already considered a very hard worker. "His commitment to studying football off the field," says Hackett, "is staggering. Paul is a tremendous student of the game. When he was a freshman we tested our quarterbacks one day and he already knew the system better than the veterans."

Considered slow when he first came to USC, McDonald worked out with USC's track coaches for two straight springs and dropped his 40 yard dash time from 5.0 to 4.8. His rushing figures show minus yardage, however, because he would rather take a loss when trapped than risk throwing an interception.

(14) ROB PRESTON — 6-3, 203, 22, Sr.

The No. 2 quarterback, Rob Preston showed what he could do when a sprained ankle forced Paul McDonald to miss the season-ending Hawaii game. As the starter, Rob completed 13 of 21 passes, although four of his throws were dropped, and wound up with 154 yards and a 2-yard TD pass to tight end Vic Rakhshani. He also set up the first Trojan touchdown in the game with a 3rd-and-7 scramble for 19 yards to the Hawaii 18.

Perhaps his biggest play of the year, however, came in the third quarter of the opener, USC trailing Texas Tech 9-0. On a 3rd-and-eight play at the Red Raider 23, he took over for McDonald who had just been stunned on a hard tackle and threw 22 yards to Kevin Williams to put the ball on the one and set up USC's first TD.

"It's a shame Rob is in the same school year as McDonald," says John Robinson, "because he's been unable to fully display his talents. I'm confident he'll give us efficient—and even outstanding play—if he's called upon. He's improved consistently each year, despite the frustrations of being a reserve."

Before 1978, Preston had played in just one game at USC, completing 1 of 4 (with one dropped) for 5 yards against TCU in 1977. He threw against the first string defense in practice in 1975, 1976 and 1977, being red-shirted in '76.

Rob had a brilliant prep career at Vista High near San Diego. As a senior he completed 89 of 139 passes (64%) and ran for 636 yards and a 5.6 average. He led Vista to a 13-0 record and the CIF title, beating Patrick Henry 32-0 in the championship game.

Preston was first team All-CIF in football and all-league on the basketball team as a guard. He still enjoys playing basketball, along with tennis and volleyball. Born in Dalles, Oregon, he's a public administration major.

(15) SCOTT TINSLEY — 6-2, 190, 20, Fr.

Of all the young quarterbacks, Scott Tinsley, according to the coaching staff, has the best grasp of the complicated USC offense right now. He's also got a quick release as a passer with a good ability to anticipate when the receiver will break open.

But the coaches say he needs to work hard at strengthening his arm and improving his footwork.

Redshirted in 1978, Tinsley made three All-American teams in 1977 at Putnam City West High in Oklahoma (Parade, Scholastic Coach and National High School Coaches) as he led his team into the Oklahoma Class 4-A finals for the second straight year. He completed 165 of 311 passes as a senior (53%) for 2,278 yards and 19 TD's. For his two-year career (he was a starting defensive back as a sophomore), Tinsley hit 271 of 571 passes for 3,980 yards and 31 touchdowns and ran for 13 more scores.

As a basketball player Scott made the state tournament all-star team and averaged 15.7 and 17.0 points his last two years. He was also a two-year All-Oklahoma City choice in baseball with a batting average over .350 both years. At USC Tinsley is a business major who says he enjoys water skiing. His cumulative grade point average is 3.17.

TAILBACKS

(For biography on Charles White, see page 26.)

(28) MICHAEL DAVIS — 6-0, 180, 20, So.

Redshirted last season, Davis carried twice as a 1977 freshman for 3 yards, but also returned a punt for 17 yards.

"Michael has played in the shadow of several other great tailbacks, but he has an opportunity to contribute this season," says John Robinson. "He's got good speed and if he continues to improve, could play an important role on our team."

Davis played at San Bernardino High School, rushing for 1,100 yards as a senior, although he missed two league games because of an injury. He scored five touchdowns in one game and was a sprinter on the track team, running 9.7 in the 100 and 49.8 in the 440.

He's a public administration major who enjoys bowling and fishing.

(25) MICHAEL HAYES — 5-9, 175, 23, Sr.

A reserve wide receiver in both 1977 (5 catches for 55 yards) and 1978 (1 for 8), Hayes was moved to tailback last spring and impressed the coaches before an inflamed achilles tendon benched him the last part of the drills.

"I think Michael can come off the bench and give us a lift like Dwight Ford did the last two years," said John Robinson. "He's got great quickness and the ability to break a long run and he gives us a tailback who's an excellent receiver. He was off to a great start in spring ball before getting hurt and should really help us."

Hayes was an outstanding tailback at San Diego High School, where he was named San Diego Player of the Year and honorable mention Scholastic Coach All-American. He ran for 3,201 yards in his career, zipping for 1,418 as a junior and 1,200 as a senior. He had seven games over 200 yards, including one of 243.

A public administration major who says his favorite class is English, Michael enjoys playing basketball in his spare time and says O.J. Simpson, Mike Garrett and Lynn Swann influenced him to become a Trojan.

FULLBACKS

(33) MARCUS ALLEN — 6-2, 196, 19, So.

The successor to Lynn Cain at fullback, Allen appears to have a great future — at either fullback or tailback. He backed up Charles White and Dwight Ford as a freshman tailback last season, averaging 5.5 yards on 31 carries, then was switched to fullback last spring.

"Marcus isn't built like a normal fullback, but he's simply too good an athlete and too competitive to sit on the bench," says John Robinson. "We've asked a great deal of him already, but we'll ask a lot more.

"He made the adjustment to tailback very well last fall and is learning the fullback position very quickly now. He's an intelligent athlete with a great future at running back, whether it's tailback or fullback. Right now at fullback he gives us the same kind of skills Cain had. He must play well for us this season."

A high school quarterback, Allen had never played running back until last season. He carried the ball in 5 games, gaining 68 yards on 15 carries against Oregon State and also running for 35 on 6 tries (Michigan State), 30 on 3 tries (Hawaii), 30 on 6 tries (California) and 8 on 1 carry (Texas Tech). He scored a touchdown from the 2-yard line against Oregon State and had runs of 17, 14, 13 and 12 yards during the year.

Allen had a remarkable record at Lincoln High School in San Diego, where he quarterbacked his team to the city championship (12-0-1 record) in 1977 and was named CIF San Diego Section Player of the Year. He was also picked by Hertz as California Prep Athlete of the Year.

Offensively that season Allen completed 145 of 300 passes for 1,900 yards and 18 touchdowns and ran 97 times for 1,198 yards (12.4 average) and 12 more TD's. Playing safety on defense, he intercepted 11 passes, returned 4 of them for scores and made 311 tackles. In the title game, a 34-6 win over Kearney, he scored all 5 touchdowns on runs of 85, 30, 20 and 10 yards and an interception return of 60. He was named on the Scholastic Coach, Parade and National High School Coaches All-American teams.

Marcus says he came to USC "because it has the best football program in America and it's an ideal place for an education." He's an ambitious young man and admires it in others. "My two biggest sports heroes are O.J. Simpson and Muhammad Ali," he says, "because they're both intelligent, successful and have utilized their tools to their maximum ability."

(38) PAUL DiLULO — 6-1, 225, 20, So.

For part of last season DiLulo was USC's No. 2 fullback, as injuries depleted the position. He played 40 minutes and carried the ball 9 times for 36 yards, although hampered on and off by a severe ankle sprain. He had bone chips removed from the ankle this spring and missed spring drills.

"Paul got off to a great start when he arrived at USC, but that sprain hampered him quite a bit," said John Robinson, "and his progress has been delayed. If he can make up quickly for the time he's lost, he can play a great deal. He's got the kinds of talents Mosi Tatupu had, and has a fine future."

DiLulo was an All-State fullback in Idaho at Boise High School and also a Coach & Athlete All-American. He rushed for 1,094 yards and 14 TD's as a senior, breaking for 5 scoring runs of longer than 75 yards. He also ranked 9th in the country in the prep discus with a mark of 192 feet as a senior and put the shot 61 feet.

(34) RICKY JOHNSON — 6-2, 225, 22, Sr.

Johnson was one of the most frustrated players on the Trojan team in 1978. The No. 2 fullback as the season began, he broke his left ankle in the opener with Texas Tech and was knocked out for the season. Since he had already had a redshirt season (he didn't play in 1975 and 1976 as a reserve linebacker), he lost the year. He also had to sit out spring ball.

"Ricky is our most physical fullback," says John Robinson, "and if his ankle recovers, he can make a big contribution to our team. He's a devastating blocker who's played very well on special teams."

Johnson had never played in a Trojan game when he switched from linebacker to fullback in the spring of 1977 and became the biggest surprise of the drills. He won a backup job — even though he practiced with a broken left hand. He played 43 minutes as a fullback that season.

Born in Little Rock, Ark., Ricky came to USC from Crenshaw High in Los Angeles, where he was an All-Western League offensive tackle and also played linebacker. He caught for the baseball team, too.

An education major, Ricky says his favorite pastime away from football is "relaxing and talking with my female friends."

(39) DOUG MacKENZIE — 5-11, 210, 19, So.

The No. 2 fullback at the end of spring drills, Doug redshirted as a 1977 freshman, then appeared briefly as a backup fullback in 1978, carrying twice for 10 yards.

"He had a good spring," said John Robinson, "and has a good balance between being physical and quick. He should play a lot on our special teams, besides seeing action at fullback."

MacKenzie was the leading ball carrier for Channel League champion San Marcos High in 1976, rushing for 920 yards on 160 carries (5.8 average) and 8 TD's. He was named as an honorable mention pick on the Joe Namath Magazine All-American team and first team All-Channel League. He was also the league shot put champ with a best of 57-4½.

A public administration major, MacKenzie likes to fish. He remembers sheepishly the day in high school he went into the huddle and found out he had joined up with the other team!

Tony played briefly last season, after appearing for 25 minutes in 1977 and carrying 3 times for 14 yards. He was redshirted in 1976 and played briefly as a freshman for John McKay's last team in 1975.

Olivarria came to USC from Colton High School where he was a first team All-CIF 3-A tight end in 1974 and also starred at fullback when the regular fullback was injured. In fact, he rushed for 1,400 yards in only six games and scored 22 TD's for the season, including 4 on end-around plays. He also made the All-Ivy League team as a forward in basketball and long jumped 21-6. At USC he's a speech communication major.

WIDE RECEIVERS

(27) BRAD ANDERSON — 6-0, 150, 21, So.

A reserve split end, Anderson played briefly as a freshman, then was redshirted last season. Despite his light weight, he had impressive prep credentials, snagging 46 passes for 804 yards, 12 touchdowns and a 17.5-yard average as a senior to pace Pinole High to its second straight North Coast Section 4-A title in Northern California. He had 7 catches for 90 yards and 2 TD's in the title game, including the winning reception.

Brad won every first team honor in Northern California, including All-Northern California, All-Bay Area and All-East Bay and also won the league championship in the high hurdles in track with a time of 14.3. His father, George, is the head trainer for the Oakland Raiders, and Brad has spent several summers learning the fine points of pass catching from Oakland stars Fred Biletnikoff and Cliff Branch. An avid outdoorsman, Brad loves water skiing, snow skiing and swimming.

(86) RAYMOND BUTLER — 6-3, 200, 23, Sr.

Listed as co-starter at split end with Dan Garcia, Butler is also the Trojans' leading punt and kickoff return specialist.

"Ray was an efficient kick returner last year, but he has the potential to be outstanding," says John Robinson. "He's also very gifted as a receiver with good size, good speed and good hands. He's improved tremendously at split end since coming to USC, and I think he can have a great season."

Butler caught 7 passes for 114 yards and a 16.3 average as a backup split end last season, his first as a Trojan after transferring that spring from Wharton County Junior College in Texas. He caught 2 passes for 31 yards against Hawaii and one against Alabama, Texas Tech, Oregon, Oregon State and California.

Butler also ranked third in the Pac-10 in punt returns, taking back 26 for a 6.6 average with a long of 23, and ranked sixth in kickoff returns with 21 for a 20.9 average and a long of 40. His 21 kickoff returns broke the Trojan record for most in a season (16), a mark that was co-held by Anthony Davis and Dwight Ford.

On flanker reverses he carried twice for 44 yards, including a run of 33 against Cal.

At Wharton County JC Butler was named first team All-Texas Junior College Football Conference in both 1976 and 1977, catching 35 passes for 9 touchdowns as a sophomore. He also returned kickoffs, kicked conversions and kicked off.

A speech major, Butler was born in Texas and played at Sweeny High School there. He says he likes to shoot pool in his spare time.

(44) JAY CHAMPLAIN — 6-3, 185, 20, So.

A reserve flanker, Champlain was redshirted in 1978, after appearing briefly as a 1977 freshman. He came to USC from St. Francis High School where he caught 25 passes for 635 yards (25.4 average) as a senior, with 4 TD's. He also averaged 42.2 yards as a senior punter, and kicked 5 of 7 field goals in his last two years.

Defensively, Jay was his team's starting safety for three years and was named to the All-CIF 4-A second team as a defensive back, also winning All-San Gabriel Valley and All-Del Rey League honors. He won the St. Francis Iron Man trophy for the most minutes of action and also played basketball and ran track.

A business administration major, Champlain loves to water ski in the summer. He has an overall grade point average of 3.03.

(26) DANNY GARCIA — 6-1, 175, 21, Sr.

The nation's leading JC receiver in 1975, Garcia is now listed as co-starter at split end with Ray Butler. He was an impressive backup to Calvin Sweeney in 1978.

Although his total number of catches was only 9, Danny averaged 18.7 yards with each one and snagged passes in 8 different games. He caught a 35-yard scoring bomb from Paul McDonald early in the second quarter against Notre Dame, and also took a McDonald pass and bounced off tacklers to go 31 yards for the only TD against Arizona State. Against Michigan in the Rose Bowl he picked off a 12-yard pass on the Wolverine 18 and went out of bounds with three seconds left in the first half to set up USC's field goal in the 17-10 win.

"Garcia caught the ball very well in the clutch last year, and I think he'll have a big year in 1979," says John Robinson. "He's got the best hands on the team and the speed to go deep besides. He reminds me a lot of former USC stars Randy Simmrin and Johnny McKay."

Garcia transferred to USC from Pierce Junior College in the spring of 1977 and was listed as No. 2 split end behind Simmrin that fall, but separated a shoulder before the first game and was redshirted.

At Pierce he led the country in both catches (66) and touchdowns (15) in 1975, running with his passes for 1,069 yards. In 1976 as a sophomore he grabbed 53 more for 741 yards and 5 TD's. His career average on 119 catches was 15.2 with 20 touchdowns. In 1976 Danny was named second team All-State (California), honorable mention All-American and in both '75 and '76 was picked on the All-Metropolitan Conference first team.

Born in Seoul, Korea, Garcia was also a wide receiver at Los Angeles High School. At USC he's a speech communication major who likes to get away and ride his bike in his spare time. "I chose USC because of the caliber of athletes that come here," Danny says. "They're not only great athletes, but they're also great competitors."

(5) SPEEDY HART — 6-0, 190, 21, Jr.

Speedy Hart is one of the more interesting stories on the Trojan team. He transferred to USC in the fall of 1978 from fierce rival Notre Dame, after playing in two games for the Irish in 1976 and six as a sophomore in 1977. He caught a 31-yard touchdown pass against Georgia Tech in 1977 in a 69-14 Notre Dame victory. As a university transfer, he had to sit out the 1978 season, working against the USC defense in practice as a member of the opponent squad.

Hart was a unanimous All-American in 1975 (Parade, Scholastic Coach, Coach & Athlete) at St. Mary's High in Phoenix, Ariz., setting school career records for most catches (119), most yards receiving (2,176), most touchdown passes caught (29) and most TD passes in a season (14 as a senior). He caught 48 passes for 906 yards his last year. He was also All-State in Arizona in both 1974 and 1975, captained the football, basketball and track teams, was elected student body president and had his football number retired.

An active young man, Hart says he enjoys "playing basketball, helping kids with studies and sports, raising tropical fish and growing plants." The toughest player he's ever faced? "Cornerback Luther Bradley in practice at Notre Dame."

(29) JEFF SIMMONS — 6-3, 185, 19, Fr.

Redshirted in 1978, Jeff has excellent potential.

"He's an extremely aggressive, extremely competitive young receiver," says John Robinson. "He'll play immediately on the special teams and should see more and more action as the season progresses."

A teammate of USC tackle Dennis Edwards at Edison High in Stockton, Simmons set a school career receiving record with 89 catches in only two years. He was All-Northern California in both football and basketball. And on the court he averaged 21.5 points a game as a senior and was named Player of the League in both the conference and the city of Stockton.

Simmons likes to read and listen to music in his spare time and says he came to USC "because I felt the football program here would prepare me for any experience I'd encounter in my life." He has an overall 3.00 grade point average in the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences.

(6) TIMMY WHITE — 5-11, 175, 19, Fr.

A high school All-American quarterback (Coach & Athlete and Parade teams), Timmy was redshirted last fall and moved to flanker last spring.

"We still feel he has a future at quarterback and we'll move him back there after the season, but felt he must contribute now," said John Robinson. "With our quarterback situation, his best opportunity is at wide receiver. He's got a lot to learn in a short period of time, but he reminds me of Kevin Williams. He's a natural athlete with great speed and he learns quickly."

Intensely recruited, Timmy was a three-year starter at quarterback at Asbury Park High in South Belmar, N.J. and also Central Jersey champion in the 100 and 220, state indoor champ in the 60 and Eastern States champ in the 220 in track in 1978. He ran 9.6 in the 100, 21.3 in the 220 and anchored his prep mile relay team to a state indoor record of 3:20.2 with a 48.3 440 leg.

As a senior in football Timmy rushed for 740 yards (8.2 average), scored 8 TD's, including a 93-yarder and completed 30 of 67 passes. In one game at quarterback he raced for 240 yards, including 80 and 90-yard TD runs.

In his spare time White says he loves to play drums and listen to music and tabs the toughest player he's ever faced as teammate Dennis Smith in practice.

(8) KEVIN WILLIAMS — 5-8, 155, 21, Jr.

He just might be the most dangerous collegiate receiver in America.

As a sophomore starting flanker last season Kevin Williams scored 10 touchdowns on only 17 catches — including TD grabs of 40 and 6 yards that broke open the game against conational champ Alabama (USC won 24-14). He also had three touchdown catches against California (30, 19 and 8 yards) and scored TD's in seven different games, including a 30-yarder against Notre Dame and a diving 10-yard grab in the end zone in the Rose Bowl showdown with UCLA.

In two seasons Williams has 13 touchdowns on 27 catches and a 20.5 average per pass. As a sophomore he was first team All-Pac-10 and honorable mention AP All-American.

"Kevin is one of the most dramatic big play receivers in the country," says John Robinson, "in the class of NFL receivers like Cliff Branch and Mel Gray. He's not only fast, but he's got outstanding hands and he's one of the toughest players — both mentally and physically — on our team. He's also one of our best blockers."

A 9.4 sprinter in high school (he was California state champ as a junior), Williams finished sixth in the NCAA 100 meters in 1978 and was the leadoff runner on USC's national championship 400-meter relay teams in both 1978 and 1979. The '78 relay team ran 38.85 seconds — fastest ever by an all-American collegiate team. In the 100 meters, Kevin's best time is a sizzling 10.27, run last spring.

In 1977 Williams averaged 23.6 yards on 10 catches, including 40 and 27-yard TD bombs against UCLA in the win that sent the Trojans to the Bluebonnet Bowl. He also snagged a 44-yard touchdown pass against Oregon and raced 18 yards to score on a flanker reverse against TCU. He was awarded another season by the Pac-8 because of a separated shoulder in his original freshman year of 1976 which benched him after he'd played less than 5 minutes in two early games.

At San Fernando High Williams was 1975 Los Angeles City Tri-Player of the Year with San Fernando and now USC teammates Charles White and Kenney Moore. He was named to the Parade All-American team as a senior while leading the city in rushing (1,402 yards) and scoring (151 points, 22 TD's) as a Wishbone halfback. He averaged 11.2 yards a carry. He was first team All-City on offense that season and first team All-City on defense as a junior. He was also City Track Athlete of the Year as a junior.

Nicknamed "Bug" by his teammates, Kevin says concentration is a big part of his success. "When I come up to the line on a pass play, I check to see what kind of defense I'm facing and try to get the feeling of catching the ball," he says. "It's the same when the ball is in the air. I'm only thinking about the catch. Nothing else distracts my attention."

"And when I get the ball I'm relieved. Each catch is a happy experience."

Does he worry about his height?

"Well, if I catch the ball over the middle, I usually have to fight for it with three or four guys who are 10 times bigger than me. But I just do my job. I run my pattern and if the ball comes to me, I concentrate on catching it.

"But I wouldn't mind being two or three inches taller."

TIGHT ENDS

(89) HOBY BRENNER — 6-5½, 235, 20, Jr.

USC is blessed with several outstanding tight ends, including Brenner who's listed as co-starter with last year's regular, James Hunter.

"Hoby would have played a great deal last year, if he hadn't been recovering from knee surgery," said John Robinson. "And when he did see action, he helped us tremendously, like scoring the first touchdown in the Rose Bowl. He's a good all-around athlete who plays with great intelligence, and he has the ability to play several positions. He's one of the keys to our success."

Brenner caught only 3 passes for 34 yards as a sophomore, but one was a spectacular 9-yard grab in the end zone that gave USC a 7-0 lead over Michigan in the Rose Bowl and another was a 20-yarder that put the ball on Washington's four-yard line to set up a touchdown in USC's important 28-10 win.

Brenner saw just eight minutes of action as a 1977 sophomore and then tore ligaments in his knee early in the spring of '78, leading to surgery and that slow start last season.

At Fullerton High School he played tailback, fullback and split end on offense and linebacker and defensive tackle on defense. As a senior he was named to the All-Orange League first team, carrying the ball 103 times for 496 yards and catching 23 passes for 299 more. He was his team's MVP in both football and basketball, making the all-league team at center in basketball. He also long jumped, threw the discus and competed in the triple jump for the track team.

A business major, Brenner says he likes water skiing, fishing and playing basketball.

(85) JAMES HUNTER — 6-4, 235, 22, Jr.

The returning starter at tight end, Hunter made a big impression in 1978 on John Robinson.

"He had a great sophomore year," says the coach. "He's big, he's very physical, and he has to be as good a blocking tight end as we've ever had at USC. He's also improved tremendously as a receiver.

"You know, every starting tight end from USC in the last 12 years has gone on to play in the NFL, and Jim will be no exception. He'll be among the very best from here."

Hunter caught 10 passes for 94 yards as a sophomore, including TD catches of 13 yards against co-Big Ten champ Michigan State and 9 yards against Oregon State. He had 3 catches for 16 yards at Stanford. He missed practice last spring after surgery to remove bone chips from his ankle.

In his first two years at USC, 1976 and 1977, Hunter didn't play, but the defense considered him a terror in practice. He had been mainly a basketball star in high school, skipping football his senior year and making second team All-CIF as a junior center at Santa Barbara High School. He did play tight end as a sophomore and junior.

Away from football, James, a public administration major, keeps in shape by dancing and swimming.

(88) PAT McCOOL — 6-4, 225, 19, Fr.

McCool impressed the coaches quickly in fall drills before the 1978 season and saw action at tight end in the opener with Texas Tech. But he hurt his knee, had surgery and sat out the season which became a redshirt year.

"Pat would have played a lot if he hadn't hurt his knee," said John Robinson. "He's a big, talented athlete who we simply must find room for. He'll see a lot of action on our special teams."

At Antelope Valley High School he was an All-CIF Division II selection as a senior and Golden League Player of the Year, catching 27 passes at tight end for 507 yards (18.8 average) and 9 TD's. Both the years he started for Antelope Valley his school won the Division II championship. Pat also played basketball and high jumped, threw the discus and put the shot for the track team.

A young man who says he likes "people and the outdoor life," McCool was involved in a funny incident in high school. "I wound up," he says, "catching a punt kicked by our own punter."

(80) VIC RAKHSHANI — 6-3, 230, 21, Jr.

The Trojans consider Vic Rakhshani — who plays both tight end and flanker — as the "12th starter on offense." When he's in the game at flanker, the position is called "V-back," and he's a threat as both a receiver and outstanding blocker.

Rakhshani came to USC with great credentials — he was the starting tight end at San Jose State as a freshman in 1976 — and he had quite an impact on the 1978 Trojans. Even though he had to sit out the first four Trojan games because of a technicality in a transfer rule, he wound up 11th on the offense in minutes played.

He caught 9 passes for 77 yards, including 2-yard scoring throws against both California (from Paul McDonald) and Hawaii (Rob Preston). He snagged 3 passes for 26 yards in his first game against Arizona State.

"Vic is a remarkable athlete who plays an essential role in our offensive philosophy," says John Robinson. "Despite missing spring practice and our first four games last year, he handled one of the most complicated jobs on our team very, very well. But as well as he played last year, I think he'll be one of our most improved players this year. He's an excellent blocker and catcher."

At San Jose State Rakhshani caught 24 passes for 307 yards in 1976, scoring 3 touchdowns. Football News named him to its Freshman All-American team, while the San Jose coaches voted him Rookie of the Year. He was disappointed that head coach Darryl Rogers had left, however, and also bothered by an injured achilles tendon in spring drills in 1977. So he transferred to Golden West Junior College, sitting out the 1977 season to be eligible for USC.

At Edison High School in Huntington Beach, Rakhshani was first team All-CIF 4-A at tight end in 1975 and also the league champion in the shot put. These days he enjoys water and snow skiing, surfing and hunting. A good student, he has a 3.09 grade point average in the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences.

How does he rank himself on the field? "I enjoy catching passes," Vic says, "but I judge a game by how well I've blocked. Blocking is my main objective, and if I don't do it well, I consider it a bad game even if I've caught every pass thrown to me."

(82) TOM ZIRPOLO — 6-5, 230, 26, Sr.

A spring 1978 transfer from San Diego City College, Zirpolo is a walk-on who played briefly last season. He wound up working with the first string offense for a while his first spring when a rash of injuries left him as the only healthy tight end. Born in Brooklyn, Tom went to three High schools (Iona Prep, Valhalla, John Jay) in the East. He's a business finance major who enjoys tennis and skiing. At 26, he's the oldest player on the Trojan team.

TACKLES

(76) JACK CAMPBELL — 6-6, 255, 20, So.

The most experienced reserve at tackle, Campbell went into fall drills listed as the backup to Keith Van Horne on the strong side. Jack played 47 minutes last year after redshirting his freshman season of 1977.

"Campbell came here with a lot of natural ability," said John Robinson, "but he was very immature physically. He's improved rapidly in his two years at USC, and if he continues to improve, he'll develop into one of our top linemen. He has enough all-around ability to play any position on the line."

Jack came to USC from West Torrance High where he was a first team All-CIF 4-A pick at offensive tackle for the Bay League co-champions. He was also honorable mention All-American on the Joe Namath Prep Magazine team, All-South Bay and All-Bay League. He also wrestled at West Torrance.

A music major at USC, Campbell says he relaxes by sitting down with a good book.

(69) STEVE MOYER — 6-7, 250, 21, Jr.

Redshirted as a defensive tackle last season, Moyer was moved to offense this past spring.

"Steve has tremendous potential," says John Robinson, "but since he's just been moved to offense this year he has a lot to learn. If he learns quickly, he'll play a great deal this season. He can develop into a very good player."

Moyer transferred to USC last year from Grossmont Junior College, where he played two seasons at defensive tackle. He did play offensive tackle at El Capitan High School and also threw the discus and put the shot for the track team.

At USC Moyer says his favorite class is psychology and says he's developed an interest in an exciting hobby — sky diving.

(77) ANTHONY MUNOZ — 6-7, 280, 21, Sr.

USC has had scores of outstanding linemen but only one Outland Trophy winner — Ron Yary in 1967. Twelve years later the Trojans have another brilliant candidate — three-year starter and 1979 Playboy All-American Anthony Munoz.

"Munoz has to be 1979's leading Outland candidate," says John Robinson. "He's potentially the finest offensive lineman I've ever been around, and that includes the great players I saw with the Oakland Raiders. In fact, he's one of the great football players I've ever seen at any position. Most scouts feel he'll be one of the first players picked in the next NFL draft.

"What makes him so good? Well, he's awesome physically, but basically he's a good all-around athlete with speed. Last spring coming off an operation he weighed over 300 pounds and still ran a 5.1 40. When he's down to his playing weight of 280, he runs 4.9."

In 1978 Munoz won second team UPI All-American, first team All-Pac-10 and first team All-West Coast honors at weakside tackle, despite going out for the season with knee surgery (torn ligaments) after seven games. He was hurt against California, and, still recovering, had to miss the last spring practice.

Munoz — all 280 pounds of him — is so fast that as a freshman he once raced step-for-step downfield with Charles White to knock the last defender out of the way on Charlie's 34-yard scoring screen pass. And, as Robinson says, he's not only fast but a good athlete, period.

As a sophomore he pitched as a reserve on USC's national championship baseball team, posting a 1-0 record and striking out 11 in 13 innings (six appearances). Last spring he would have been in the starting rotation, if he hadn't been recovering from surgery.

At Chaffey High School where he was a unanimous 1975 All-American lineman going both ways, (Coach & Athlete, Parade, Scholastic Coach), Munoz also averaged 40 yards as the team's punter, was a second team All-CIF first baseman with a .378 batting average and an All-Citrus Belt League forward in basketball.

"I've never seen a man his size with so much agility," says USC line coach Hudson Houck. "He's an extremely good run blocker, but that quickness gives him great lateral and backward mobility for pass protection blocking, too. He's also intelligent and a good listener who's constantly working to improve."

Anthony was the starting weakside tackle as a sophomore in 1977, winning second team All-West Coast honors. As a 1976 freshman he played 77 minutes as the No. 1 tackle reserve in the first 9 games before suffering torn knee ligaments and undergoing surgery.

Actually, Munoz came late to football.

"Earlier in my life I thought all I wanted was to be a major league baseball player," he says. "But I made the decision to play football when I came out of high school. I can see that's where my future is.

"I've played baseball at USC because I still love the game and wanted to prove that I could play it in college. When I was young I was always too big for my age group in Pop Warner football, so they never let me play. My size, ironically, wasn't a problem in baseball, and I've been competing in that longer — since I was six or seven years old."

A public administration major, Munoz and his wife, Dianne, were married in 1978. "We like to get away to the beach and the mountains to relax," he says.

The toughest player he's ever faced? "Teammate Myron Lapka right on our practice field."

(74) JOE MURRAY — 6-5, 260, 19, Fr.

Redshirted in 1978 as a freshman, Murray is a backup weakside tackle. He came to USC from Loyola High School where he made the Scholastic Coach All-American team, was a first team All-CIF Division I pick on offense and was Del Rey League Lineman of the Year. He helped his team go 9-2-1 and reach the CIF championship semifinals.

Murray was coached by ex-USC tailback Steve Grady, who says Loyola ran behind Murray 80 to 90% of the time. A history major at USC, Joe says his favorite pastimes away from football are "music and sleep."

(68) KEITH VAN HORNE — 6-7, 250, 22, Jr.

The returning starter at strongside tackle, Van Horne appears to have a great future.

"Keith played efficiently as a sophomore," says John Robinson. "This year I think he can play brilliantly. He's improved dramatically the last two years and, despite his great height, he's got excellent balance. He's a very good athlete who I'm certain can play at the same level as our top senior linemen."

Van Horne played well last season, even though he had missed spring practice due to surgery for repair of a fractured bone in his left foot after the 1977 season. In '77 he played 40 minutes as the backup to now-graduated John Schuhmacher.

A freshman in 1976, Keith played just 4 minutes in two games because of a stress fracture in that left foot and was awarded another year by the conference.

At Fullerton Union High School Van Horne was a two-year All-Freeway League choice as a tight end and defensive lineman, and also played center in basketball and put the shot 59 feet for the track team. He was born in Mount Lebanon, Penn.

An excellent student, Van Horne is a broadcast journalism major with an overall 3.29 grade point average. He says he came to USC "for its winning tradition and scholastic achievements," and cites his brother, Peter, as his biggest sports hero. "He helped me get started in sports and was an inspiration to me," Keith says. "He and my father (John) taught me not to quit and to give everything I have. If I have done that, then I can be satisfied with myself."

GUARDS

(71) BRAD BUDDE — 6-5, 253, 21, Sr.

On his way to being a four-year starter, Budde is the No. 1 strongside guard and was a Playboy All-American pick this summer. More of those honors should follow this season.

"Brad should be an All-American guard," says John Robinson. "He's my idea of a complete football player who will be a first round NFL draft choice. He's very tough, very intelligent and an outstanding athlete. He's also very aggressive and intense.

"He's almost the ideal player."

Budde has already been showered with honors in his career. He was an honorable mention AP All-American pick as both a junior (1978) and a sophomore (1977), was a first team All-Pac-10 choice both seasons and has been both a first and second team All-Coast selection. In 1978 he was second on the team in minutes played (334).

The son of former Kansas City Chief All-Pro offensive guard Ed Budde, Brad was the first freshman to start in a season opener for USC (1976) since World War II. He then alternated the rest of the season with future unanimous All-American guard Pat Howell. For his efforts he was named Frosh Lineman of the Year by the Football News. As a sophomore Budde played 255 minutes as the starting strongside guard.

"Brad came out of high school as already one of the best players around, but he's improved each year," says line coach Hudson Houck. "He's tall with outstanding physical ability, but determination sets him apart from other players. He wants to be the best at what he's doing.

"He's also the type that plays right through bumps and bruises. He has that pro attitude in the way he plays while injured."

Budde credits his parents with fostering his ambition.

"My dad doesn't work with me on blocking," he says. "I get enough of that here. What my parents, Ed and Carolyn, taught me was that the mental aspect is so important — the determination to be very good at what you do.

"I love my parents very much. There's no generation gap between us. I consider them as friends."

Budde was born in Detroit and came to USC from Rockhurst High School in Kansas City, Mo. He made the Parade and Coach & Athlete All-American teams and was on Coach & Athlete's "Super Eleven," or team of the top 11 players in the country. Besides playing offense, he led Rockhurst in tackles as a senior with 111.

Brad is one of several married offensive linemen. His wife's name is Tammy. He's a good student, too, with an overall grade point average of 3.07 in public administration.

(64) ROY FOSTER — 6-4, 260, 19, So.

The starting weakside guard as a sophomore, Foster is the replacement for unanimous All-American Pat Howell.

"Roy has tremendous pressure on him — trying to fill Pat Howell's shoes," says John Robinson, "but he's made as much progress in one year as any player I've ever known. He came to USC as a 250-pound fullback, and we quickly moved him to guard where he's made phenomenal improvement at a position he had never played before.

"He's the fastest offensive lineman on our team and has loads of natural ability. He will be a great player at USC."

As a freshman Foster played 34 minutes as a reserve guard. Born in Los Angeles, he moved to the Kansas City area (Overland Park) three years ago with his family and played for Shawnee Mission High. As a senior fullback Roy rushed for 1,016 yards on 199 carries (5.1 average) and earned second team All-State, first team All-Kansas City and first team All-Sunflower League honors. He also played tackle on defense. As a freshman and sophomore Roy played for Taft High in Southern California.

Away from football Foster says he relaxes by "singing and doing magic tricks." When asked who his biggest sports heroes are, he said, "All-Pros who are modest." He's a good student, with a cumulative 3.03 grade point average in the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences.

(65) SCOTT FRASER — 6-2, 240, 22, Sr.

Fraser was the No. 1 reserve at guard and No. 2 reserve at center when he suffered torn knee ligaments in practice after only three games last year and was lost for the season. He was held out of spring football and listed as backup weakside guard going into fall. John Robinson considers his recovery crucial to the team.

"Scott has developed into a very good offensive lineman, and he would have been this year's starter at weakside guard if it hadn't been for his injury," said the coach. "He's a most competitive man, and if his knee recovers completely, he'll play a great deal at either guard or center — or both. He's one of the key players on our team, and I hope he has the kind of luck he deserves."

As a 1977 sophomore Fraser played more minutes (119) than any other reserve lineman.

He redshirted in 1976, after appearing briefly as a freshman center in 1975 on John McKay's last team. At Riverside Poly High School Fraser was twice a first team All-CIF selection at center, making the 4-A team as a junior and 3-A team as a senior when his school's league changed classifications. He was also 1974 Riverside County Player of the Year and made 25 tackles against Colton as a linebacker.

A public administration major, Fraser is an ardent backpacker and scuba diver. He sheepishly remembers a game in high school when he got hit in the head, was stunned, and got his team 25 yards in offside penalties before his coaches took him out of the game.

(60) DARRELL JORDAN — 6-3, 255, 19, Fr.

Redshirted as a freshman linebacker, Jordan is now a backup to Brad Budde as a strongside guard. He was moved to guard this spring.

"Darrell has made tremendous progress at guard," says John Robinson. "He's a natural athlete, and as he grows stronger he can become an outstanding player. In fact, if he works hard to improve, he has an unlimited future."

Jordan was an All-CIF Division I first team pick at tight end for Pius X High School, catching 12 passes for 181 yards (15.1 average) and 3 touchdowns as a senior. He was also an honorable mention All-American on the new National High School Coaches team and played linebacker.

(75) ALLEN PUGH — 6-4, 245, 21, Jr.

A backup to Brad Budde at strongside guard, Pugh has played effectively on both offense and defense for the Trojans. After being redshirted as a 1976 freshman, he played 38 minutes at defensive tackle in 1977, making six tackles, including one for a 10-yard loss. Moved to offense the next spring, Allen then played 37 minutes as a reserve guard in 1978.

"He's developed consistently for us," said John Robinson, "and now can help us at either guard or center. He's an intelligent player who reminds me of (now graduated) Ray Peters in his willingness and ability to adapt to different positions."

Pugh played at San Marcos High in Northern California, winning Scholastic Coach All-American and second team All-CIF 4-A honors at offensive tackle. He also made the All-Channel League team two straight years and was an all-conference pick one season as a basketball forward and another as a first baseman in baseball.

A business major, Pugh is married — his wife's name is Janine — and says he enjoys drawing, basketball and tennis.

CENTERS

(62) CHRIS FOOTE — 6-4, 250, 22, Sr.

The returning starter at center, Foote injured a knee (strained ligaments) in practice after spectacular play in the first four games last year and had to miss the rest of the season. In fact, the Trojans lost every center on their team and wound up with an ex-nose guard, Ray Peters, at the position the last two months. John Robinson hopes his No. 1 center stays healthy this fall.

"Chris is one of the quickest, most athletic centers

I've ever been around and I think he's one of the best in the country," says John Robinson. "His early season play before he got hurt last year was magnificent. But I also admire him a great deal, because he's fought harder to overcome adversity than anyone I've seen at USC. He's had to overcome three knee injuries — and he's done it."

The last game Foote played in was the 24-14 win over co-national champ Alabama. His performance awed line coach Hudson Houck, who is an ex-center himself.

"Against Alabama," said Houck, "Foote played the best game I have EVER seen a center play."

Chris played 43 minutes as the backup to starter Gary Bethel in 1977. He was redshirted as a 1975 freshman following knee surgery for an injury suffered before coming to USC. In 1976 he played a dozen minutes as a reserve center and then underwent another operation for torn ligaments after the season.

A Parade and Scholastic Coach All-American at Fairview High in Boulder, Colo., Foote was an offensive tackle and middle guard as a prep and also wrestled, put the shot (57 feet) and threw the discus (175 feet). He was born in Louisville, Ky.

A speech communications major, Chris had a 3.29 grade point average as a junior. He's married (his wife's name is Suzy) and says he enjoys driving sports cars. On the field he says ex-Trojan nose guard Rich Dimler is the toughest player he's ever faced. And he may be an excellent athlete, but he does remember an embarrasing moment in high school.

"We were running on the field," he says, "and I tripped and fell flat on my face."

(52) BRAD GREEN — 6-2, 245, 23, Sr.

Brad Green was the only Trojan center left when he started against Arizona State last year — after a rash of injuries had knocked out four others. But Green himself was hurt early in the first quarter, had to have surgery for torn knee ligaments and missed the rest of the season. He also missed most of spring practice.

"If Brad's knee is recovered and he's in top condition, he'll play a great deal," says John Robinson. "He's intelligent, he's determined, and he's an excellent pass blocker."

Green transferred to USC in the spring of 1977 from Orange Coast College where he was first team All-South Coast Conference and MVP on the team. He redshirted in 1977.

At Estancia High School, Brad was the second team All-CIF 3-A center as a senior and also first team All-Orange County.

A public administration major, Green had a 3.23 grade point average last year. He also says he enjoys studying the Bible. His most thrilling moment in sports was an easy choice. Says Green: "It was being given the chance to play at USC. I've wanted to do that ever since I was a little boy. I felt it was a challenge to play for the best."

KICKERS

(10) ERIC HIPP — 5-9, 182, 19, Jr.

Frank Jordan, the specialist in last-second field goals, is gone, but last spring USC recruited another placekicker who can do it when the game is on the line. He's Eric Hipp, a transfer from Jordan's old school, San Francisco City College.

Picked as the first team All-State placekicker, Hipp set a new California JC record for distance by booting a 57-yard field goal — with no time left on the clock — to tie Foothill College 24-24 last season. That broke the old mark of 55 yards set by ex-UCLA and current Los Angeles Ram star Frank Corral.

Eric was third in the state in kick scoring last season with 52 points on 10 field goals and 22 extra points, after kicking 9 field goals and 17 PAT's as a freshman. He was a first team All-Golden Gate Conference pick in both 1977 and 1978.

Hipp not only went to the same JC as Jordan, he also went to the same high school (Riordan in San Francisco), where he was an All-Northern California kicker, hitting one from 56 yards for a San Francisco CIF record, and was also an All-Conference linebacker. In addition, he played soccer.

A physical education major at USC, Hipp says he still enjoys playing soccer, along with skiing and swimming. And he hopes it never rains during a USC game. "We were playing on a real muddy field during a rainstorm one time," he said, "and I slipped and fell flat on my back every time I tried a field goal. I fell a total of four times."

(1) ROB KERR — 6-0, 195, 20, Sr.

An unrecruited walk-on, Kerr won a job as a 1976 freshman and wound up kicking off for the Trojans in the last five games. In 1977 he did all the kicking off — a total of 61 kicks — and in 1978 he did most of it — almost 50 kicks.

"Rob has become an effective kickoff man for us," said John Robinson, "and he has excellent range as a field goal kicker, too. He and Eric Hipp will fight it out for the field goal kicking job."

Kerr was an All-Mission Valley League placekicker and tight end at San Gabriel High, but spent the summer before the '76 season pestering USC's coaches for a chance to try out. The first four days of practice he kicked on another field with his girl friend chasing down the ball. Then he got an official tryout and won a uniform. He got his first chance in a game against Stanford.

At San Gabriel Kerr once hit a 43-yard field goal and also was on the track team, long jumping 21-8, pole vaulting 13 feet, high jumping 5-10 and running a 10.25 100 and 52.5 440.

Rob is a psychology major at USC who enjoys fishing and handicapping the horses, but he also has a much more unusual hobby — raising snakes. He has 14 of them.

(31) JOHN PERRY — 6-5, 205, 22, Jr.

The son of athletic director Dick Perry, John is a backup punter who also worked at quarterback in practice in 1977. He hasn't yet played in a Trojan game.

An all-conference quarterback at Pacifica High School in Orange County, Perry also played forward on the basketball team and pitched for the baseball team. He was born in Emporia, Kan.

John is a business administration major who has a cumulative 3.11 grade point average. He says he likes economics, skiing and relaxing to music. He'll never forget what happened to him in a high school game. "As the quarterback I strolled up to the line," he says, "and bent down to take the snap from center. But when I started calling signals, I realized I was standing behind the strongside guard."

(17) DAVID PRYOR — 6-2, 205, 19, Fr.

Redshirted as a freshman last season, Pryor is now the successor to Marty King as No. 1 punter.

"David can have a great season for us," said John Robinson. "He has every attribute except experience. He seems to thrive on pressure and he can really kick for distance, but what I like the most is his quickness in getting the ball away. He might be the quickest we've had in years."

Pryor came to USC from Hemet High in the desert, where he averaged 40 yards on 36 kicks as a senior and limited opponents to just a total of 16 yards in returns. He also quarterbacked his team to the San Andreas League title and an 8-2 record, earning second team all-conference honors as a quarterback and first team honors as a punter. And he played forward for the basketball team and put the shot for the track team.

He handled pressure well enough as a 13-year-old to win the national punt-pass-and-kick title at halftime of the Super Bowl.

FULLBACK MARCUS ALLEN: 5.5 AVERAGE IN '78

DEFENSE

DOWN LINEMEN

(92) DAVID CORSINOTTI — 6-3, 250, 20, So.

Redshirted in 1978, Corsinotti should help this season at nose guard. He played 25 minutes as a freshman defensive tackle in 1977.

"Dave is very strong, and if he can improve his mobility, he'll play a lot," says John Robinson. "He's a very determined player — and I like that."

Double and triple teamed every game as a defensive tackle at Riordan High School in 1976, Corsinotti still led his team in tackles with 75 and sacks with 13. He made the All-West Catholic Athletic League first team.

Nicknamed "Bruno" by his teammates, Corsinotti says his biggest sports hero is Rocky Marciano and lists "fishing, music and weight lifting" as his favorite hobbies.

(94) BYRON DARBY — 6-4, 225, 19, Fr.

Darby was redshirted as a freshman last season, but John Robinson says he has excellent potential.

"Byron had an outstanding spring practice," Robinson said, "and has a bright future as either a nose guard or a tackle. He's got very good speed and agility and will play a lot on the special teams, too."

Darby was a teammate of USC linebacker Eric Scoggins at Inglewood High School, where he was a 1977 All-CIF Division II first team pick at defensive tackle. He led Inglewood in tackles with 135, including a team-high 19 sacks, and also recovered three fumbles. He was chosen the team's MVP and captain and was an All-Ocean League pick at tackle on both offense and defense. Byron also put the shot 57 feet for the track team.

A business administration major, Darby says the toughest player he's ever faced was Trojan All-American guard Pat Howell in practice last fall.

(70) DENNIS EDWARDS — 6-4, 225, 20, So.

As a freshman Dennis Edwards played more in the defensive line than any first year player Marv Goux has ever coached — except for former All-American Gary Jeter — and his future looks just as bright. He goes into the fall as a starter at tackle.

He played 140 minutes at tackle last year, bringing down 51 runners, and led the entire team in tackles for a loss with an astonishing 16 for 116 yards. When a knee injury forced starter Ty Sperling out of the Rose Bowl,

Edwards started against Michigan and made 10 tackles, third on the team, including a 10-yard sack of quarterback Rick Leach.

Often used as a fourth lineman to try and disrupt explosive Stanford, he came off the bench to sack quarterback Steve Dils three times for losses of 10, 8 and 1 yards. The 10-yard sack came on a first down play at the USC 35 with five minutes left and the Trojans ahead just 13-7. He seems to explode into the backfield.

"Dennis is the quickest defensive lineman I've ever seen — and I mean that," says John Robinson. "He'll be an All-American before he's through at USC. He not only has great talent, but as a freshman he played with tremendous intensity and intelligence. I admire him very much."

Besides Stanford, Edwards also led the Trojans in tackles for loss against Washington (3 for 27 yards) and Hawaii (4 for 19 yards), recovered a fumble and knocked down a pass.

A Scholastic Coach All-American and All-Northern California pick at Edison High in Stockton, Calif., Dennis played tackle on offense and middle guard on defense, piling up 144 tackles as a senior. He also put the shot 50 feet as a trackman.

At USC, Edwards credits one-on-one drills against All-American guard Pat Howell and All-American tackle candidate Anthony Munoz for his rapid improvement as a freshman.

"Munoz and Howell made me," he says. "I went up against them often during the first few days of practice and I'll be honest. They hurt me a lot. But I just kept getting up and coming back — and I improved."

(96) MYRON LAPKA — 6-4, 245, 23, Sr.

On his way to being a three-year starter at tackle, Lapka was a key member of the USC defense that was second in the country against the rush in 1978. He made 61 tackles, including 11 for losses, swatted down two passes and did it all with a sore shoulder that required surgery after the season. He had high tackle games of 8 (Oregon State) and 7 (Michigan State and Texas Tech).

"Myron has improved as much over the last two years as any player I've seen in years," says John Robinson. "He's playing with great consistency and has become one of the best defensive linemen on the Coast.

"He's also become an important team leader and physically, he's the strongest player I've ever had."

Besides shoulder surgery, Lapka also had knee surgery after last season but has recovered well. He first got a chance to start when veteran Vinny Van Dyke was hurt in the first game of Myron's sophomore year and Lapka took the job and held it, making 45 tackles and throwing 7 backs for 30 yards in losses.

Redshirted in 1976, he appeared in one game as a 1975 freshman. He came to USC from Chatsworth High, where he was a first team All-Los Angeles City selection at defensive tackle in 1973 and second team All-City pick in 1974. He also played a little at fullback and had enough speed to break off a 50-yard run.

A public administration major, Myron says he enjoys fishing and skiing and other outdoor sports. "I chose USC," he says, "to be the best player I can be."

(63) TY SPERLING — 6-0, 235, 21, Jr.

Quick, efficient and a sure tackler, Sperling takes over as the starting nose guard this season after starting at tackle as a sophomore. But he must recover from knee surgery for torn ligaments. The injury occurred in the final regular season game with Hawaii, and he missed spring drills.

"Ty's complete recovery from knee surgery is crucial to our success," says John Robinson. "He's got tremendous speed, intelligence, efficiency and he can be as important a leader on our defense as Rich Dimler was last year. He, Dennis Edwards and Myron Lapka can give us one of the quickest defensive lines you'll ever see."

Sperling was fifth on the national champs in tackles last season with 64, including 9 for 66 yards in losses. In the Rose Bowl showdown with UCLA he sacked Bruin quarterback Rick Bashore three times for losses of 12, 12 and 9 yards and was named ABC-TV Defensive Player of the Game. Ty had 10 tackles against Michigan State and 8 against Notre Dame and California.

In 1977 Sperling played 91 minutes as a backup at both nose guard and tackle, making 27 tackles, including 2 for 11 yards in losses. He was awarded an additional year of eligibility by the then Pac-8 because he had been limited to just one game in his freshman year of 1976 because of a sprained left shoulder.

At Banning High School Sperling was a first team All-Los Angeles City and Scholastic Coach All-American pick at offensive guard in 1975. He was also voted co-captain as his team reached the city playoff finals. For the track team he put the shot 54-4.

Born in San Francisco, Sperling is a public administration major who's married. His wife's name is Sheryl, and he has a year-old son, Tyrone II.

"My favorite pastime away from football is relaxing with my family," he says. "In the future I'd like to either be a lawyer or perhaps own a business. If I'm drafted by the NFL, that's fine. It's also fine if I'm not."

Sperling credits his father, Frederick, for his success.

"When I was 12 I was fat and slow and so lazy I didn't even want to pick up a football," he says. "My father said he didn't want me to continue to be 'the fattest thing on the block,' so he taught me how to lift weights and run — and he did it with me. He still does.

"If it wasn't for my father, I'd never be playing football."

(90) BRAD STREELMAN — 6-5, 245, 21, Sr.

A spring, 1978 transfer from Cerritos Junior College, Streelman played 51 minutes last season as a reserve defensive tackle and nose guard and made 17 tackles. Five of those 17 were for losses totaling 13 yards.

"Although he's not starting, Streelman must make a major contribution to our team," says John Robinson. "He's an intelligent player who's shown marked improvement since he's come here and will play all three positions on the line and play on the special teams as well."

Streelman started two years at tackle for Cerritos College and was chosen first team All-South Coast Con- ference as a sophomore. He was also the team's Lineman of the Year.

At Valley Christian High School Brad played defensive tackle and fullback (rushing for 215 yards in one game), was the all-league center on the basketball team, played outfield on the baseball team, ran the 440, high jumped and put the shot for the track team and sat on the student council.

A business administration major, Streelman loves to water ski.

(79) CHARLES USSERY — 6-4, 240, 19, So.

Ussery played 25 minutes as a 1978 freshman tackle, making 4 tackles, 2 of them for 9 yards in losses. He was listed as a backup tackle going into fall.

"Charles is still maturing physically," says John Robinson, "but he has great potential. He's got an excellent blend of strength, speed and intelligence and has made rapid progress here. As he matures and gains more confidence, he's going to be an outstanding player."

At Long Beach Poly High Ussery was named to the Coach & Athlete and Scholastic Coach All-American teams as a defensive tackle and also played tackle on offense. He was picked on the All-CIF Division I second team and was All-Long Beach City.

Ussery's father, whose name is also Charles, is the deputy police chief in Long Beach. The Trojan lineman says he enjoys "riding horses, hiking in the mountains and fishing."

LINEBACKERS

(99) DAVID ALLISON — 6-3, 215, 19, Fr.

A redshirt as a freshman in 1978, David goes into the fall listed as a reserve strongside outside linebacker. He came to USC from Lincoln High in San Diego, where he was a teammate of USC fullback Marcus Allen. As a defensive end, Allison was a first team All-CIF San Diego selection for the squad that went 12-0-1 and won the San Diego CIF championship. He started at defensive end for three years.

A business major, Allison was born in San Diego and is known to his teammates as "Snake".

(51) CHIP BANKS — 6-5, 223, 20, So.

Chip had an immediate impact as a freshman, playing 111 minutes and starting the Oregon and Alabama games at inside linebacker. He wound up with 45 tackles, including 2 for 7 yards in losses, and recovered a fumble.

He fractured his left ankle in Rose Bowl drills, however, and had surgery which forced him to miss spring drills. He goes into fall as the backup outside linebacker to Larry McGrew on the weak side.

"Chip is one of the key players on our team," says John Robinson. "He simply has to have a good season for us, and he can, if his ankle is completely healed and he's in top condition. I know one thing: he can be one of the great linebackers in USC history."

Banks made 10 tackles against both Oregon and Michigan State last season and also intercepted a pass against the Ducks, returning it 5 yards. He came to USC from Laney High in Georgia, reportedly recruited by 150 schools. He was a two-year All-State pick at linebacker and tight end and was also on the Scholastic Coach All-American team.

As a senior Banks made 158 tackles to lead his team, including a staggering 114 unassisted stops, and also caught 10 passes and did the punting, averaging 39.5 a kick. He was the team's MVP as a junior and senior and led them to an 8-1-1 record and second place finish in the league in 1977.

"I came to USC," Chip said, "because I felt the Trojans had more national recognition and tradition. A lot of other recruiters tried to intimidate me by saying I'd get lost here, because USC had so much talent. But coach John Jackson, who recruited me, assured me I'd get my chance — and I have."

(54) STEVE BUSICK — 6-4½, 225, 20, Jr.

Busick is considered to have excellent potential, but his playing time has been limited by injuries in both his freshman and sophomore years.

He severely pulled a hamstring while being timed in the 40-yard dash before fall drills even started last season and missed the first two games, winding up with 35 minutes of playing time and 16 tackles at inside linebacker. As a freshman he had surgery on his right shoulder late in the year after making 15 tackles in only 24 minutes.

"Steve had a good spring practice," says John Robinson, "and we feel he's ready to take his place as a potential starter. He's got excellent size and range for a linebacker and moves to the ball well."

Busick had gone into last season listed as a starter, but his hamstring pull gave Riki Gray his chance and Gray took it. Now, with Dennis Johnson, Gray and Busick, Robinson feels he has three starters at inside linebacker.

At Temple City High School, Busick was the leading tackler as a senior for the team that won the CIF 3-A title (21-0 over Villa Park in the title game). He was an All-CIF 3-A first team pick as a linebacker.

(87) AUGUST CURLEY — 6-3½, 210, 19, So.

As a freshman Curley played 30 minutes and made a dozen tackles, seeing most of his action on the kicking teams.

"Curley reminds me very much of Garry Cobb (just graduated two-year starter)," says John Robinson. "Like Garry, he's very intelligent and very competitive. He was a valuable special teams player for us last season and this year we believe he'll play more at outside linebacker and continue to help us on the special teams."

Curley came to USC from Southwest High in Atlanta, the same school that sent ex-Trojan All-Coast tackle Walt Underwood. He was an All-State pick at Southwest, averaging 10 unassisted tackles and two sacks a game, and also played forward on the basketball team and pitched for the baseball team. He threw the first no-hitter in the school's history. August was born in Little Rock, Ark., and says now that his favorite hobbies are "going to parties and riding motorcycles." He traveled across the country to USC, he says, "because it was a childhood dream."

Curley is making the most of his opportunity. He has a 3.64 cumulative grade point average in the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences.

(35) RIKI GRAY — 6-2, 225, 19, So.

Gray proved himself one of the more precocious players in USC history last season when he started as a freshman inside linebacker and was third on the national champions in tackles with 86, including a team-high 15 against Michigan in the 17-10 Rose Bowl victory.

He also led the team in tackles with 14 against California, had 9 against Big Ten co-champ Michigan State, made 8 against Arizona State and had 7 in three other games. Against Hawaii he intercepted a pass and ran it back 25 yards for a touchdown. Seven of his 86 tackles went for 40 yards in losses and he also knocked down two passes and recovered a fumble.

"I still can't believe his performance as a freshman last year," says John Robinson. "He played like a mature veteran. He's intelligent, he's quick, he's extremely aggressive, and he has tremendous intensity. If he continues to improve, he's going to be a truly great player."

Gray didn't have any contact in spring drills because he had knee surgery for torn ligaments after the season, but he's expected to be ready to play.

Riki came to USC from Amphitheater High in Tucson, Ariz., where he was a unanimous All-American pick — the only member of an outstanding freshman class to make all four prep teams. He averaged 13 tackles a game as a senior and was All-Arizona as both a junior and senior. In one game at linebacker he scored three defensive touchdowns, running back two interceptions and pouncing on a fumble.

Born in Christchurch, New Zealand, Riki moved to America with his mother after she separated from his father and came to USC on a modern dance scholarship. She took him to the USC-Stanford game in 1971 and he was hooked.

"It was the first football game I ever saw and I immediately wanted to go to USC," he said. "It was that white horse, the songs and the enthusiasm. It never left my mind. Now all I want to do is play for USC. If I could play 20 years for USC, I'd do it."

An engineering major, Gray says he also likes to surf and ride horses and picks a non-football player as his favorite athlete — Steve Garvey.

(56) DENNIS JOHNSON — 6-4, 230, 21, Sr.

"We wouldn't trade Dennis Johnson," says defensive coordinator Don Lindsey, "for any linebacker in the country."

John Robinson is even more direct. "Dennis," says the head coach, "should be an All-American."

A three-year starter, Johnson is the leader of the Trojan defense — both verbally and physically. For the third straight year he'll be calling defensive signals and for the last two he also was the team's No. 1 tackler with 105 as a sophomore and 128 as a junior.

Directing the nation's second leading defense against the run in 1978, Johnson also intercepted a pass, deflected 7 others, recovered a fumble, made 4 tackles for a loss and was named first team All-Pac-10 and honorable mention AP All-American.

He made 13 tackles in last season's crucial 24-14 victory over co-national champ Alabama and 12 against Notre Dame to win ABC-TV Defensive Player of the Game honors. He also brought down 13 runners against Texas Tech and Oregon, 12 against Arizona State and 11 each against California and Michigan in the Rose Bowl.

"Dennis has improved each year," says John Robinson, "and become one of the premier players in the country. He's got excellent size and speed and great range which allows him to be in on most tackles.

"He's also an intelligent player who defends the pass as well as any linebacker I've ever seen at USC. Maybe he's used to seeing the ball well because he was a receiver in high school."

As a 1977 sophomore, Johnson not only led the team in tackles for the season, he led the Trojans in tackles in five different games and piled up 15 against Missouri, 13 against UCLA and Washington State and 12 against Texas A&M (Bluebonnet Bowl) and Oregon State.

His range is not surprising. He was fast enough to play wide receiver and tight end at Northwestern High School in Flint Mich., and snagged a total of 50 passes his last two years for a 16.7 average per catch. He scored 5 touchdowns as a senior, and was a Scholastic Coach honorable mention All-American pick and Michigan All-State selection. As a 1976 USC freshman reserve he played 17 minutes.

A speech major, Johnson enjoys playing chess and, in a family with three older brothers and three older sisters, he's the only athlete. "I'm the youngest, the biggest and the baddest," he says with a grin.

Why did he come to USC all the way from Michigan? "Ever since I was a kid and saw O.J. Simpson on TV, I knew I wanted to play here," he says. "Coming to USC was a childhood dream."

Dennis realizes he has a tough job on the field.

"Calling signals is just like playing quarterback, except that I don't get the ball from center," he says. "I have to relay the signals from the coaches and make adjustments and it keeps you thinking. On top of that, an inside linebacker has to know what everyone on the team is doing. But it's all made me a better player."

(97) KEN JORDAN — 6-4½, 218, 19, So.

As a freshman last season Jordan played 26 minutes — mostly on the kicking teams — and made 8 tackles. He's a reserve outside linebacker.

"Kenny is an aggressive young player who will fill a crucial role on our special teams this season," says John Robinson. "He'll play some at outside linebacker, too, and, as he matures, I think he can be an outstanding linebacker."

A three-year starter at linebacker at Booker T. Washington High School in Atlanta, Jordan was selected to the All-State, All-Metro and All-City teams as a senior, averaging 17.5 tackles a game. He also played goalie on the soccer team and put the shot and threw the discus for the track team. In one football game he grabbed a fumble and ran it 64 yards for a touchdown.

A business major, Kenny says he's learned to expect the unexpected.

"In a high school game I lined up in the wrong place while I was on defense," he said. "And as a result I made an interception I would never have gotten otherwise."

(58) MIKE McDONALD — 6-1½, 220, 21, Sr.

Listed as No. 2 inside linebacker on the weak side behind Riki Gray, McDonald is not only a key player at that position but a leader of the special teams. For the fourth straight year he's the snapper on punts and field goals.

As a junior he made 20 tackles in just 52 minutes of action after making 16 tackles and recovering 2 fumbles as a sophomore and making 3 tackles and recovering a fumble as a freshman.

"Mike contributes in many ways," said John Robinson. "His role is crucial on our team. He's become an effective linebacker and an outstanding punt and placekick snapper. And last year — when we had all those injuries to our centers — he played backup center to Ray Peters on offense."

McDonald will never forget his first game as a 1976 Trojan freshman. On his first play he hiked the ball over punter Glen Walker's head to set up a Missouri touchdown and start USC off to a loss in John Robinson's initial game as head coach.

"He came off the field crying, and I told him that's okay, because I was crying, too," Robinson quipped later.

At John Burroughs High in Burbank, McDonald was an All-CIF 3-A first team selection as a linebacker and was named Co-Defensive Player of the Year in the Foothill League and Lineman of the Year in the Glendale-Burbank area.

A physical education major, Mike enjoys playing baseball to relax and says his most exciting moment in sports was watching his six-year-old foster brother get a base hit in his first game.

(57) LARRY McGREW — 6-5, 220, 22, Sr.

The returning starter at outside linebacker on the weak — or split end — side, McGrew was the team's eighth leading tackler last year with 57 (his number), including 2 for 6 yards in losses. He also deflected a pass and intercepted another. He had 10 tackles in the narrow win over Notre Dame.

"Larry has improved consistently over the last three years," says John Robinson, "and is one of the most respected members of our team. He played effectively in 1978, but I think he can play brilliantly this year. He's able to mix intelligence and physical ability which is so important at his position. I think he's got a great future at outside linebacker in the NFL."

McGrew originally signed a letter of intent to Cal, but changed his mind and enrolled at Contra Costa Junior College instead, playing outside linebacker in 1975 and then sitting out the season in 1976 to save a year of eligibility. After getting his JC degree, he transferred to USC in the fall of 1977. As a sophomore that season he played 71 minutes as a reserve and made 13 tackles, including 2 for 12 yards in losses.

At Berkeley High School, McGrew started at both tight end and linebacker and was twice an All-Alameda County Athletic League first team pick, along with being chosen on the All-Northern California team.

A public administration major, Larry says he chose USC "because of the positive attitude of the coaches, players and other students and the strong support of the alumni."

(91) MARC MITCHELL — 6-4, 215, 20, Jr.

A spring 1978 transfer from Mt. San Antonio Junior College, Mitchell tore ligaments in his left knee halfway through spring practice, had surgery and was redshirted last fall. Now he seems ready to fulfill his promise.

"Marc had a fine spring," says John Robinson, "and has shown consistent improvement. If it continues, he'll play an important role on our special teams and as a reserve outside linebacker."

Mitchell played defensive tackle for two years at Mt. Sac, making 90 tackles as a sophomore, including 15 sacks. He also intercepted a pair of passes and blocked two kicks. He was a first team All-South Coast Conference selection.

At Pomona High School, Mitchell also played defensive tackle and won All-San Antonio League and All-Pomona Valley honors. He says he enjoys listening to music and "just being with good friends" in his free time.

(81) ERIC SCOGGINS — 6-3½, 220, 20, Jr.

When senior starter Garry Cobb was injured before last season, sophomore Eric Scoggins replaced him at outside linebacker on the strong side for four games and did a remarkable job. He made 11 tackles in the crucial 24-14 win over co-national champ Alabama, including 3 for 11 yards in losses, and was named ABC-TV's Defensive Player of the Game. He was also picked as Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Week. During the same stretch of games Scoggins had 10 tackles against Texas Tech, including 2 for losses.

For the season — including a stint as backup to Cobb when the veteran returned — Scoggins made 44 tackles, 8 of them for 32 yards in losses.

"Eric played well as a part-time starter last year," says John Robinson. "He's very intelligent and an excellent defender against the pass. If he continues to improve in defending the run, he'll be an outstanding linebacker."

In Scoggins, Larry McGrew and Chip Banks, Robinson feels he has three men of starting caliber at the two outside linebacker positions.

Moved to outside linebacker in drills before the 1977 Bluebonnet Bowl, Scoggins had been a defensive back as a freshman, making 11 tackles and playing 52 minutes. He came to USC after a brilliant career at Inglewood High School, where he started at defensive back two years and started at quarterback for three.

He was an All-CIF 3-A first team pick on defense as a senior and honorable mention All-American choice on the Joe Namath Magazine team, intercepting 7 passes and making 54 tackles. At quarterback he rushed for 753 yards, scored 4 touchdowns and completed 51 of 98 passes (52%) for 912 yards and 10 more scores. He was named Ocean League Player of the Year. In his spare time, he was also student body vice president.

A public administration major, Scoggins loves to listen to music to relax and is one of the so-called "Three Blind Mice" — including teammates Dennis Smith and Ronnie Lott. They've been close friends since they all came in together as 1977 freshmen. Eric's friends sometimes also call him "Wimpie," because he loves hamburgers.

DEFENSIVE BACKS

(40) JEFF FISHER — 5-11, 185, 21, Jr.

Before spring practice John Robinson said his biggest defensive problem was finding cornerbacks. The Trojans lost three of their top four corners to graduation. So the staff switched ex-wide receiver Jeff Fisher to the position, and he surprised everyone.

"We were very worried about cornerback, but Jeff acclimated himself there very well," says Robinson. "He had a great spring. He's a good athlete and very competitive. Many of the same physical requirements like speed and hand-eye coordination are the same for wide receivers and corners.

"Fisher just might be the biggest surprise on our 1979 team."

As a sophomore Jeff played 29 minutes on offense, catching 1 pass for 6 yards. He played in one game in 1977 and redshirted in 1976.

He came to USC from Taft High School where he played both wide receiver and defensive back, winning first team All-Los Angeles City and honorable mention Scholastic Coach All-American honors at wide receiver as a senior.

Jeff caught 56 passes for 806 yards his last season and also intercepted 6 passes and made 50 tackles. He set a city receiving record for a single game with 13 catches for 284 yards against Chatsworth, including TD plays of 58 and 80 yards.

A public administration major, Jeff has an overall 3.36 grade point average and is an active young man. "I'm on the move," he says. "I like surfing, skiing, golf and tennis."

(11) DON JONES — 6-0, 185, 21, Jr.

A transfer last spring from Harbor Junior College, Jones began his USC career as a walk-on but impressed the coaches with his skills and intensity in spring practice and won a scholarship.

He had to overcome odds at Harbor, too, beginning his career as an offensive back and wide receiver and then switching to defense at the end of his freshman year. He worked hard in the off-season and became a starter on defense by the beginning of his sophomore year — and by the end he was an all-star, winning first team All-Southern California Conference honors at corner.

Jones intercepted 8 passes at Harbor in 1978, breaking open a scoreless tie with Los Angeles City College with a 25-yard return for a score. He also recovered 2 fumbles and made 99 tackles — an average of 11 a game.

Born in San Francisco, Jones is a business major.

(42) RONNIE LOTT — 6-2, 195, 20, Jr.

Second team All-Pac-10 as a sophomore, Lott was everywhere. The starting rover — or strong safety — he came up to make 63 tackles, including 5 for losses on safety blitzes, and also recovered 4 fumbles, broke up 7 passes and intercepted 3 other passes — all of them crucial steals. He amazes John Robinson.

"Rarely do you see athletes who are both very, very gifted and very, very competitive," says Robinson, "but Lott is. In his combination of great talent and great intensity, he reminds me of (ex-Trojan) Lynn Swann.

"He's physical, he's quick and he's intelligent, and his leadership is an important part of our defense. In the clutch I want Ronnie Lott on my side. He's a candidate for All-American as a junior."

In the Rose Bowl Lott intercepted Rick Leach's first pass and returned it 33 yards to set up the first Trojan touchdown in the 17-10 victory. Against Stanford he picked off a Steve Dils pass in the end zone to stop a long drive as USC won 13-7.

And against Hawaii he picked off a pass late in the third quarter and ran it back 50 yards for a TD. When that was nullified by a penalty, Lott intercepted another early in the fourth quarter and brought it back 16 yards to the Rainbow 29 to set up the USC score that broke the game open.

He made 12 tackles against Stanford, 10 against California and 8 against Big Ten co-champ Michigan State. And, as a freshman in 1977, he made 27 stops in just 51 minutes — many as the first man streaking downfield on kickoffs and punts. He also broke up 5 passes and recovered a fumble.

A great athlete at Eisenhower High School, Lott made the All-Citrus Belt League team at three different positions, defensive back, quarterback and wide receiver, and was also an all-league pick three years in basketball (guard) and two in baseball (shortstop).

As a senior in football he was Citrus Belt League Player of the year and a unanimous All-American (Parade, Coach & Athlete, Scholastic Coach). As a senior quarterback he completed 50 of 101 passes for 794 yards and rushed for 947 more. As a junior wide receiver he caught 43 passes for 890 yards (20.7 average). And on defense he intercepted 21 passes in 3 years.

Born in Albuquerque, N.M., Lott is a public administration major who relaxes by listening to jazz. He enjoys playing rover. "What I like about the position is that there's a lot of action," he says. "According to the coverages, sometimes I play like a strong safety, sometimes like a free safety and sometimes like a cornerback. It's always different, and you sure don't get bored."

(43) KENNEY MOORE — 6-1, 185, 21, Jr.

One of the most honored high school players in Los Angeles history, Kenney will play free safety, rover and corner this year. As a sophomore he saw 49 minutes of action as a reserve safety, making 11 tackles, recovering a fumble and returning an interception 14 yards (against Oregon State).

"Kenney is one of several key players who, while not starting, will play enough to practically be considered a starter," says John Robinson. "Not only will he see action in the secondary, but he's also a leader on our special teams. He's very physical, very tough and very competitive."

Moore was redshirted in 1977 and appeared briefly in three games as a 1976 freshman. But at San Fernando High in 1974 and 1975 he was only the second player in history to twice be named Los Angeles City Player of the Year (ex-Trojan fullback Charlie Evans was the first). In 1974 Moore won the award as only the fourth junior to be so honored and in 1975 he shared Player of the Year honors with San Fernando and USC teammates Charles White and Kevin Williams.

As quarterback, Moore led San Fernando to back-to-back city titles in '74 and '75 and directed the Wishbone-powered Tigers to a 32-5 mark overall in three years. He accounted for 4,085 yards in total offense in his career, ran for 19 touchdowns and passed for 27 more.

He was a full-time two-way player, winning first team All-City honors at quarterback as a junior and first team All-City honors at defensive back as a senior. In 1975 he was also picked on the Parade and Coach & Athlete All-American teams. His most productive year statistically was 1974 when he ran for 781 yards (4.4 average) and 11 TDs and passed for 769 and 7 more scores.

The brother of ex-Trojan fullback Manfred Moore and current Trojan freshman receiver Malcolm Moore, Kenney is a speech communication major whose favorite classes are in cinema.

(49) DENNIS SMITH — 6-3, 200, 20, Jr.

The starting free safety, Smith was USC's leading interceptor as a sophomore with 7 for 77 yards and made the All-Pac-10 second team. He also led the Trojan defense in minutes played with 315, led the secondary in tackles with 71, had 6 pass deflections and called the signals in the secondary.

"Dennis is a very gifted athlete who has the potential to be a great safety," says John Robinson. "He's got size, speed and he can hit. He played tremendous football for a sophomore last season.

"I was impressed by the continued improvement in his concentration and intensity in the spring — and if he can sustain that, he'll take his place among the country's best defensive backs."

Smith made his 7 interceptions last season in 7 different games, setting up field goals against Michigan in the Rose Bowl and Oregon, setting up the first Trojan TD against Washington and stopping potential scoring drives by Alabama and Arizona State. His longest return was the 31-yarder to Michigan's 30 with eight seconds left in the first half that set up three points. He also had 9 tackles in 4 different games.

As a freshman Dennis played 55 minutes and intercepted 2 passes against TCU.

A former California state prep high jump champ — he cleared 7-2 in the spring of 1977 to break Dwight Stones' state record — Smith spends most of his springs now playing football. But in both 1978 and 1979 he entered the pressure-packed USC-UCLA dual meet with less than a week of practice and jumped 7 feet to get second. In 1978 he also jumped 7 feet to get third in the Pac-8 championships, helping the Trojans to narrowly win the title.

Smith went to the same high school as USC's two-time All-American safety Dennis Thurman — Santa Monica — and followed Thurman to USC. At Santa Monica Dennis was named 1976 Co-CIF 4-A Player of the Year (with Randy Hertel) and also made the Coach & Athlete, Scholastic Coach and Joe Namath Magazine All-American teams.

Both a defensive back and wide receiver as a prep, Smith caught 33 passes for 777 yards (23.5 average) as a senior and picked off 3 passes. He had 9 interceptions as a junior and was a second team All-CIF 4-A pick.

Nicknamed "Kojak" by his teammates, Dennis grins about his job as safety. "I'm there to make up for everybody's errors," he says.

Thurman, he says, had a tremendous effect on him. "Dennis was my idol," he says, "and helped me make up my mind to come to USC. When I got here, he helped me a lot — both on and off the field. Wherever he went on campus, I followed him.

"In 1977 we also roomed together on the road and during double days. It seems like we spent most of our spare time studying films and the playbook, and I sure learned a lot."

(23) HERB WARD — 5-10, 190, 21, Sr.

As a junior last season Ward started five games at cornerback. He goes into 1979 as a full-time starting corner.

"And he's a major key to our season," says John Robinson. "We have very little experience and very little depth at corner, so we need a big year from Herb. At times last season he played brilliantly, but at other times he was inconsistent. He's a natural one-on-one cover man with very good speed and he improved a lot this spring. If that improvement continues, he'll be an excellent corner."

Ward was second on the Trojans in interceptions with 5 last season, including a 64-yarder for a TD against Oregon and two in the second quarter in USC's big 24-14 win over Alabama. He also intercepted a Rick Bashore pass on the Trojan 13 to snuff out a UCLA drive. In addition, he knocked down 5 passes, recovered a fumble and made 33 tackles.

Redshirted in 1977, Ward came to USC that spring from San Francisco City College. In two seasons as a JC defensive back he totaled 88 tackles, broke up 16 passes, made 6 interceptions, recovered 2 fumbles and had 2 scoring interception returns. He was a first team All-Golden Gate Conference pick as a sophomore.

Herb was also an explosive punt returner at San Francisco, returning three for touchdowns in his career, including an 85-yarder against San Jose City College, and leading the league in returns in 1976 with a 21.6 average (324 yards on 15 runbacks).

As a freshman Ward also placed sixth in the state JC decathlon, he high jumped 6-10 and ran a 9.8 100 at Balboa High School and played guard on the basketball team in both high school and junior college.

A public administration major, Ward says he enjoys the secondary. "I played tailback and receiver in high school, so I'm used to catching and running with the ball," he says. "Getting an interception in a big game or running one back for a touchdown is a big thrill. It's the same sort of feeling a running back has when he breaks away for a long run. I love it."

Also made recruiting visits to UCLA, Notre Dame and Oregon ... Captured the California state heavyweight wrestling championship as a junior (had a 35-0 record) and was third as a senior (34-1), completing his four-year varsity career with a 130-6 mark ... Ran the 100-yard dash for the track team his sophomore and junior years with a best of 10.4 as a soph and has recorded a 4.7 for 40 yards ... "George is the finest and most dedicated athlete I've ever coached," said his high school coach, John Germaine.

(47) JOEY BROWNER — Defensive Back, 6-3, 200

The fourth high school All-American of the Browner family, being preceded by former Notre Dame defensive end and Outland Trophy winner Ross (now with the Cincinnati Bengals), ex-Notre Dame three-year starting defensive back Jim (a senior last year) and Tulane junior fullback Willard ... Named to the Scholastic Coach and Parade All-American teams and National High School Coaches honorable mention team as a linebacker, although he played five positions for Southwest High in Atlanta ... also earned All-South, Georgia Class 3-A Lineman of the Year and Atlanta Player of the Year honors, making 120 unassisted tackles and intercepting three passes to help Southwest to a 10-2 record ... In a game against West Fulton, he scored touchdowns on a 93-yard kickoff return and 53-yard reception from his tight end position as well as making 13 unassisted tackles ... Has run the 40 in 4.4 ... Never considered following his brothers to Notre Dame and listed Tulane and Texas as his next choices ... The third Southwest High player to attend USC recently following ex-Trojan defensive tackle standout Butch Underwood and current sophomore linebacker August Curley ... All-State in Ohio as a junior at Warren Western Reserve High.

(95) FRED CORNWELL — Tight End, 6-6, 230

A two-year starter as a tight end and defensive end for Canyon High in Saugus, he made the All-CIF Division II first team last year and second team as a junior ... Also an All-San Fernando Valley and All-Golden League selection, he caught 44 passes in his two years, including 17 last season ... Started for three years as a center on the basketball team, averaging 12 points and 11 rebounds and earning second team All-League honors as a senior ... In the spring he was a shot putter and discus thrower for the track squad with bests of 58-4 and 174-0, winning the league shot put title and placing second in the discus ... Visited Arizona, Oregon, Stanford, UCLA and Washington, too ... Had a 3.4 grade point average.

(46) DREW DOSSETT — Linebacker, 6-4, 235

A unanimous high school All-American, he was named Louisiana's 3-A Defensive Player of the Year . . . Probably won't practice or play this fall, however, because of a knee operation for torn cartilage and torn ligaments before coming to USC, so he'd still be a freshman in 1980 . . . Recorded 98 tackles, recovered three fumbles, intercepted two passes and blocked a punt as a senior at Jesuit High in Shreveport . . . On offense, he caught 11 passes and averaged 22 yards a reception with three TDs at tight end . . . Also selected to the All-South team and named Most Valuable Player in his parish and city . . . Played basketball as a sophomore and started . . . His other recruiting visits were to Oklahoma, Texas, Baylor, SMU and Mississippi . . . Has run the 40 in 4.7 . . . Has relatives in the Newport Beach area and a second cousin, Andrea, is a senior at USC . . . His grade point average was 3.85.

(59) STEVE ENRIGHT — Offensive Lineman, 6-6½, 247

The son of former USC assistant football coach and Oregon head coach Dick Enright, he was an All-CIF Division II first team choice for Capistrano Valley High in the Mission Viejo area . . . Other honors included All-Orange County and All-South Coast League . . . Running behind him 85 per cent of the time, his team gained 2,775 yards on the ground last year . . . Made 12 key blocks that led directly to touchdowns . . . "He reminds me of Ron Yary at the same stage," says his high school coach, Bill Cunerty, who graduated from USC with Yary in 1968. "Steve is quick for his size."

(24) ANTHONY GIBSON — Tailback, 6-0, 180

One of three San Fernando High players to sign with USC, he was a Scholastic Coach All-American and All-Los Angeles City first team pick . . . Led his team in rushing with 1,066 yards and an 11.8 average,including a 92-yard jaunt last season . . . Has 4.5 speed for the 40 and was Most Valuable Performer on the track team his junior year as a sprinter . . . A three-sport letterman, also playing basketball . . . Had the highest grade point average on his football team and plans to major in engineering . . . Turned down scholarships to Harvard and Stanford . . . "Gibson is in the tradition of the other greats who went to USC from San Fernando — Anthony Davis and Charles White," says San Fernando High coach, Bill Marsh, who coached all of them. "He has the same breakaway speed of both Davis and White."

(36) MIKE HARPER — Tailback, 5-10, 170

Timed in 4.3 for the 40, he used that speed to rush for 2,318 yards on a 7.7 average in just 11 games and earn Parade and Scholastic Coach All-American honors as well as All-State in Missouri . . . Doing it all offensively, he returned nine punts for 158 yards (a 17.5 average) and seven kickoffs for 249 yards (35.6 average), was 2-for-2 passing for 78 yards and scored 33 touchdowns for Hickman Mills High in Kansas City, a team ranked No. 1 in Missouri most of the season . . . Set school and metropolitan rushing and scoring records . . . Rambled for more than 200 yards in six games, including 348 on 39 carries playing only three quarters in the rain, and 296 on 22 carries in another three-quarter effort . . . Once scored six TDs in a game . . . An opposing coach commented, "Hickman Mills doesn't need a quarterback. All they need is someone to hand the ball to Harper." . . . His own coach, Larry Frazier, says, "He's the most outstanding running back to ever come out of the Kansas City area. He's been compared to Greg Pruitt, Joe Washington, Johnny Rodgers and O.J. Simpson. We call him 'Juice'" . . . Has run a 9.5 100, 6.2 60, 22.5 220, 48.5 440 and 38.0 330 IH for the track team . . . One of six children and a regular choir member at his local Baptist church . . . Other visits were to UCLA, Missouri, Oklahoma and Iowa State.

(53) ROBERT HEDEQUIST — Offensive Lineman, 6-4, 226

A member of three of the four All-American teams (Coach & Athlete, National High School Coaches and Scholastic Coach) and two-time All-State at Spokane's Gonzaga Prep in Washington . . . A Best in the West selection, too . . . Helped his team reach the state championship game the last two years with 11-2 and 9-1 records . . . "He's the finest I've ever coached in 17 years," says Don Anderson of Gonzaga Prep. "He's exceedingly quick off the line." . . . Started his prep career as a quarterback on the frosh team but was switched to center his sophomore season . . . Played catcher on the baseball team . . . Also visited Air Force, Arizona State, Notre Dame, Washington and Washington State.

(21) THOMAS JEFFERSON — Fullback, 6-3, 230

A National High School Coaches All-American and member of the Best of the West squad, he rushed for 1,344 yards (a 6.8 average) and 11 touchdowns as a tailback at Ontario High . . . Locally, he was on the All-CIF Division II second team and was also All-Pomona Valley and All-Hacienda League . . . On option plays, he hit 4 of 6 passes for 200 yards, including 80 and 60-yard touchdown bombs . . . Over his three-year varsity career he averaged more than 100 yards a game with 2,771 in 25 contests . . . As a linebacker on defense last season, he led the team with six sacks . . . Lettered at forward on the basketball team . . . Selected USC over Nebraska, UCLA and Arizona State.

(61) MIKE LAMB — Offensive Lineman, 6-5, 245

One of two freshmen to participate in spring drills after entering USC in February (along with Marvin Williams), he graduated from Clovis High in the Fresno area in June of 1978 . . . Played in the Fresno City-County All-Star football game in 1978 . . . A two-year varsity letterman in wrestling . . . Bench presses 320 pounds and has a 4.9 time for the 40.

(66) BRUCE MATTHEWS — Offensive Lineman, 6-4, 235

The brother of former USC star and current Cleveland Browns' linebacker Clay Matthews, he was named to the National High School Coaches All-American honorable mention, the All-CIF Division I first team as a defensive lineman, the L.A. Times All-San Gabriel Valley squad as an offensive lineman and the All-Pacific League team both ways ... "Bruce is very similar to Clay in that they're both very intense and intelligent players with great attitudes," said Dick Salter, who coached both at Arcadia High. "Clay is quicker and Bruce is bigger." Bruce's father, Clay Sr., played for the San Francisco 49er's ... His other final choices were UCLA, Stanford, California, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Arizona State ... Was an All-League heavyweight wrestler as a sophomore and junior ... Helped Arcadia to the CIF Coastal Division title game the last two seasons ... A 3.6 student, he was named a Hall of Fame Scholar Athlete and received a Boys Club award as the top teenager in the San Gabriel Valley.

(31) BOB McCLANAHAN — Fullback, 6-0, 205

An All-Los Angeles City second team pick for 10-1 city semifinalist San Fernando High, he rushed for 1,053 yards (an 8.7 average) as a fullback in the same backfield with fellow Trojan freshman Anthony Gibson ... Tied another USC recruit, Malcolm Moore, for the San Fernando lead in touchdowns (13 each) ... Exploded for 236 yards and scoring runs of 39 and 42 yards versus Taft High ... The nephew of Minnesota Viking running back Brent McClanahan ... "I believe he and Anthony Gibson have the same kind of potential in tandem as Charles White and Lynn Cain," said Bill Marsh, his high school coach ... Bench presses 285 pounds ... A three-sport varsity letterman, he was on the basketball and track teams, too.

(55) DARRYL MOORE — Offensive Lineman, 6-5, 245

Made the All-Los Angeles City first team at offensive tackle and just missed by one vote being a unanimous choice on the Best of the West squad ... A two-year All-Western League and All-Bay Area selection at Venice High and second team All-City as a junior ... "Besides his great size, he's very smart and is an excellent college prospect," says his high school coach ... Played basketball and was a shot putter for the track team.

(22) MALCOLM MOORE — Wide Receiver, 6-5, 210

Continuing the tradition of the Moore family, he made three All-American teams (Coach & Athlete, Parade and Scholastic Coach) and was honorable mention on the other (National High School Coaches) at San Fernando High last year ... The two-time All-Los Angeles City and unanimous Best of the West selection caught 32 passes for 805 yards (a 25-yard average) and 13 TDs last season, although his team threw only 111 passes out of the wishbone ... Possessing tight end size and split end speed (4.7 40), he played both positions in high school ... He's the youngest of four brothers who've starred at San Fernando — Anthony, 29, became a top defensive back at Long Beach State; Manfred, 28, started at fullback for USC and played with Minnesota and Oakland in the pros; and Kenny, 20, is a junior defensive back for the Trojans ... "Malcolm probably is the most talented overall of the family," said Bill Marsh, his high school coach who played with Anthony at San Fernando and also coached Kenny. "Being the baby of the four, he had to be tough, and aggressiveness is his top quality." . . . A three-sport varsity letterman, Malcolm also was on the basketball and track teams . . . His other visits were to UCLA and Arizona State.

(72) DON MOSEBAR — Offensive Lineman, 6-7, 265

USC recruited several players regarded as among the best in the nation, but none can match the honors garnered by Mosebar . . . He was a unanimous All-American, a member of Coach & Athlete's Super Eleven, a unanimous choice as Northern California Player of the Year, and on the Best of the West squad . . . Parade Magazine's pick as the outstanding lineman in the nation . . . One Pac-10 coach said, "There's no better offensive lineman anywhere." . . . His high school, Mt. Whitney of Visalia, was 13-0 last year and 12-1 in 1977, and running backs averaged eight yards a carry over Mosebar's offensive tackle spot . . . A shot putter on the track team with a best of 63-7 . . . Covered 40 yards in 5.0 despite his size . . . Took other trips to Nebraska, Washington and UCLA . . . His 6-11 twin brother is attending Arizona on a basketball scholarship.

(4) KEVIN RODDY — Defensive Back, 6-3, 205

An outstanding two-sport athlete at West High in Bellevue, Nebraska, he was signed to a USC football scholarship by Trojan assistant baseball coach Justin Dedeaux and will play both sports in college . . . An option quarterback and defensive back, he was selected to the All-State team on defense . . . An ankle injury in the fifth game cut short his season after he had led West to a Top Ten ranking in the state . . . Before his injury, he returned two interceptions for touchdowns, was averaging over five yards a carry, had scored 40 points including extra point kicks and field goals (a long of 45 yards) and punted for a 40-yard average . . . A two-year starter in football, he was a regular for three seasons in baseball as a second baseman and played on the state championship team in 1978 . . . Started for two years on the basketball team, too . . . Nebraska, Notre Dame, Kansas, Iowa State, Iowa and the service academies all tried to recruit him . . . Had a 4.3 grade point average on a 5.0 scale.

(30) TIM SHANNON — Defensive Back, 6-3, 205

The son of former St. Louis Cardinals' third baseman Mike Shannon, Tim earned Coach & Athlete All-American honors as a quarterback and linebacker at Christian Brothers High in St. Louis despite playing the final six games with torn rib cartilage . . . On defense he had 115 tackles, six interceptions and three quarterback sacks, while on offense he rushed for 642 yards on 103 carries (a 6.1 average) with seven TDs and threw for 351 yards and three TDs in a wishbone attack . . . Timed in 4.6 for the 40 . . . "He's very possibly the greatest competitor I've ever coached and truly a nasty individual in a football uniform," says Bryan Hagerty, his high school coach . . . His other visits were to Nebraska, Oklahoma, Notre Dame and Missouri.

(73) TONY SLATON — Offensive Lineman, 6-5, 240

Named to the Best of the West and All-Northern California teams and Lineman of the Year in the Central

USC'S ATHLETIC HERITAGE

Since 1926 — when the track team won USC's first national championship — the Trojans have dominated the world of intercollegiate sport.

Trojan men's teams are No. 1 in the country in national championships with 63 — a total that is 26 more than the runner-up school. In addition, the football teams of John Robinson, John McKay and Howard Jones have been voted national champions on eight other occasions.

Here's the up-to-date list of USC national titles and the coaches who won them:

VOLLEYBALL (1)

1977—Ernie Hix

California Conference at Merced High as an offensive tackle . . . Fast for his size with 4.8 to 4.9 speed in the 40 . . . Considered the best lineman prospect out of the San Joaquin Valley since 1978 USC All-American guard Pat Howell.

(48) TIM SULLIVAN — Linebacker, 6-3, 215

Playing on a 3-6 team at St. John the Baptist High in Massapequa, New York, he didn't win any national honors but was highly recruited, visiting Michigan, Ohio State, Iowa, Illinois, Syracuse and USC . . . Playing inside linebacker and offensive guard, he was a two-year All-Catholic Long Island Conference pick . . . Led his team in tackles last season and blocked three punts . . . Named Most Valuable Player in the Catholic all-star game between Long Island and New York City . . . Also played lacrosse . . . His brother, John, was a two-time Most Valuable Player as a linebacker at Illinois, broke Dick Butkus' single season tackling record and was a sixth round choice of Chicago this year.

(45) MARVIN WILLIAMS — Tailback, 5-10, 180

One of two Super Eleven selections on the Coach & Athlete All-American team to sign with USC this year (the other is Don Mosebar), he was named CIF Division II Player of the Year for leading Colton High to the Southeastern Conference title . . . Starting the year at tailback, he later was switched to fullback and rushed for 1,883 yards and scored 22 touchdowns . . . Over four years he totaled 4,553 yards rushing to rank fourth on the all-time CIF list . . . Had 384 career points to rank third all-time in scoring . . . Named to the National High School Coaches honorable mention and the Best of the West squad, too.

USC: NO. 1 IN THE NFL

USC has the most players in the National Football League, and no other university is even close.

Last season there were 41 ex-Trojans on NFL rosters. Next best were Colorado and Ohio State with 28. Going into the 1979 season USC had 59 players on pro teams, including 9 rookies.

USC players are on the rosters of 23 NFL teams.

The bulk of Trojan pros came from the two most talented classes in collegiate football history. Those are the classes of 1975 (their last season was 1974) and 1977 (1976 season).

Both these classes had 14 players drafted, an all-time NFL record.

ORIGIN OF USC'S NICKNAME — TROJANS

USC's nickname, "Trojans," originated in 1912. Up to that time the University of Southern California teams were called the Methodists or Wesleyans, nicknames which were not looked upon with favor by university officials.

So, Warren Bovard, director of athletics and son of university president Dr. George Bovard, asked Los Angeles Times sports editor Owen Bird to select an appropriate nickname.

"At this time, the athletes and coaches of the university were under terrific handicaps," recalled Bird. "They were facing teams that were bigger and better-equipped, yet they had splendid fighting spirit. The name 'Trojans' fitted them.

"I came out with an article prior to a showdown between USC and Stanford in which I called attention to the fighting spirit of USC athletes and named them 'Trojans.' From then on, we used the term 'Trojan' all the time, and it stuck.

"The term 'Trojan' as applied to USC means to me that no matter what the situation, what the odds or what the conditions, the competition must be carried on to the end and those who strive must give all they have and never be weary in doing so."

OUTLAND SALUTE

Ron Yary — 1967

Ron Yary is the only USC player to win the Outland Trophy, "the Heisman Trophy for linemen." The Outland award goes to the outstanding lineman in the nation and is selected by the Football Writers Association of America.

Yary was a two-time consensus All-American offensive tackle for the Trojans and was a unanimous All-American pick in 1967 when he won the Outland. The first player selected in the 1968 pro draft, he is now a perennial All-Pro with the Minnesota Vikings.

HEISMAN SALUTE

Mike Garrett — 1965

Mike Garrett, USC's first Heisman Trophy winner — and only the second on the West Coast — set an NCAA career rushing record (since broken) by running for 3,221 yards in his three-year career.

The popular Garrett won the Heisman over such outstanding 1965 collegians as Bob Griese, Floyd Little, Tommy Nobis, Jim Grabowski, Donny Anderson and Howard Twilly.

Garrett and Anthony Davis are the only players to lead USC in rushing for three straight years. Mike later starred for the Kansas City Chiefs and San Diego Chargers.

HEISMAN SALUTE

O. J. Simpson — 1968

O.J. Simpson became USC's second Heisman Trophy winner in 1968 when he captured the award by the most one-sided margin in the history of the balloting.

During the regular 1968 season O.J. established an NCAA record for yards rushing — 1709 — in a single season (since bettered). He equaled or bettered no less than 13 USC records.

Simpson also holds the NFL single season rushing record of 2,003 yards set in 1973 and goes into the 1979 season as the second leading NFL career rusher behind Jim Brown.

THE UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

The University of Southern California is an educational enterprise of uncommon diversity and distinction. Founded in 1880, USC has grown from a small local college to an internationally known center of research, learning, and service. The proud athletic heritage of the USC Trojans is known to all. But USC also has achieved a reputation for academic excellence.

The University's Toward Century II program seeks $265 million to help meet USC's educational goals. As an independent institution dependent on private support, many worthwhile opportunities for philanthropy exist at the University.

* USC, one of only 23 private leading research universities in the United States, is a member of the Association of American Universities, the most esteemed organization of academic institutions.
* Enrollment stands at 25,000, including 11,700 full-time undergraduates; 4,930 full-time graduate or professional students; 2,500 part-time undergraduates; 5,480 part-time graduate or professional students.
* USC provides Southern California with a significant portion of its professionals: 48% of the judges and 40% of the attorneys in Los Angeles County are USC graduates; more than 2,100 physicians, 8,500 engineers, 50% of the pharmacists, 60% of the social workers, dentists and school administrators in Southern California earned their degrees at USC.
* In the professions, USC has long been a leader. The University is the home of 21 professional schools which train specialists in fields ranging from medicine and law to architecture, education and library science. USC professional school graduates are serving society's needs in both the United States and hundreds of foreign countries.

* Its Department of Cinema and Schools of Social Work, Public Administration and International Relations are the oldest such schools in the country.
* In basic research, USC is also nationally and internationally prominent. Today, USC stands 17th among all colleges and universities nationally in total federal funding of research.
* In medicine, USC was one of only eight institutions originally invited to begin a comprehensive cancer research center.
* Included among USC's distinguished alumni are astronauts Neil Armstrong, Alan Bean, James Lovell, and Walter Schirra; Federal Commissioner of Education Ernest L. Boyer; columnist Art Buchwald; U.S. Representative Yvonne Braithwaite Burke; Metropolitan Opera star Marilyn Horne; artist Mary Corita Kent; author Irving Stone; actress Marlo Thomas; symphony conductor Michael Tilson Thomas; the late actor John Wayne; former CBS-TV Network President Robert D. Wood.

DR. JOHN R. HUBBARD
University President

The University of Southern California's eighth president, Dr. John R. Hubbard, has guided USC through a decade of growth and development. In 1976 he launched the Toward Century II program, a $265,340,000 project designed to prepare the University for its second century as a model of academic excellence.

Dr. Hubbard, a historian, became USC's chief executive officer Aug. 3, 1970. He had previously been vice president and provost of the University. He succeeded Dr. Norman Topping, who is now chancellor. Dr. Hubbard came to USC after four years as chief education advisor for the U.S. Agency for International Development in India. He was dean and professor of European history at Newcomb College of Tulane University in New Orleans before going to India.

He also taught at Louisiana State University, Yale University and his alma mater, the University of Texas, where he earned three degrees in history between 1938 and 1950. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

As a specialist in modern British and European history, the USC president remains an active teacher conducting a weekly seminar on British diplomatic history.

Dr Hubbard, born in Belton, Texas, served five years in World War II as a naval aviator. He came out of the Navy as a lieutenant commander, having been a flight instructor and patrol plane commander with the Atlantic and Pacific fleets. He won the Distinguished Flying Cross and four Air Medals.

Dr. and Mrs. Hubbard, the former Lucille Luckett, live in San Marino. The Hubbards have three daughters: Elisa, who earned her B.A. degree from the University of California, Berkeley, in 1973, and her master's degree in international relations from USC; Melisse, who earned bachelor's and master's degrees in social work from USC; and Kristin, a 1977 graduate of Stanford University, where she majored in history.

Dr. Hubbard is a trustee of both the Association of Independent California Colleges and Universities and Scholarships for Children of American Military Personnel. He is a member of the Board of Directors of Community Television of Southern California (KCET-TV) and of the Board of Governors for the Performing Arts Council at the Music Center. He is a member of the American Historical Association, Organization of American Historians, Southern Historical Association, Anglo-American Historical Society and the Conference on British Studies, the Commission on Federal Relations of the American Council on Education and the Council on Federal Relations of the Association of American Universities.

DR. NORMAN TOPPING
University Chancellor

After twelve distinguished years as the seventh president of USC, Dr. Norman Topping announced his early retirement for reasons of health in spring, 1970.

Following the selection of Dr. John R. Hubbard to succeed Dr. Topping, the USC Board of Trustees invited the popular former president to remain on campus, serving in the post of University Chancellor. Dr. Topping accepted, and thus continues to serve his alma mater. He is the first alumnus to be USC's Chancellor.

The second alumnus to be president of the oldest major coeducational non-sectarian university in the West, Dr. Topping became USC's chief executive officer on Sept. 1, 1958.

He was graduated from USC in 1933 with a bachelor of arts degree and in 1936 with the degree of doctor of medicine.

He was the chief architect of USC's Master Plan for enterprise and excellence in education, announced in 1961 after a two-year study by trustees, administrators and faculty members.

Many distinguished men of learning were attracted to USC during his presidency and more than $235 million was given to the University for USC's Master Plan, exceeding the original goal of $106 million.

Dr. Topping came to the USC presidency after a distinguished 16-year career with the U.S. Public Health Service, climaxed by his appointment as an Assistant Surgeon General and associate director of the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Md.

He also was vice president for medical affairs at the University of Pennsylvania for six years immediately prior to returning to USC.

Dr. Topping developed the typhus vaccine used in World War II by more than 15,000,000 U.S., Canadian and British servicemen. The vaccine still is in use. Dr. Topping received the Bailey K. Ashford Award in 1943 and the U.S. Typhus Commission Medal in 1945.
